

The Hartford Republican.

Fine Job Work a Specialty.

IF IT IS NEW, YOU WILL FIND IT IN THE REPUBLICAN

Subscription $1 a Year

VOL. XIX.

HARTFORD, OHIO COUNTY, KY., FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 30, 1906.

No. 20

PROGRESS OF EQUITY

Outlined by National Secretary C. H. Taylor.

Points Out How Dumping Present Crop Retards Sale of Pooled Tobacco.

I desire to say here that whenever this organization becomes anything else than a farmers' business association it will have outlived its usefulness, and the moment the plans pursued by the members diverge from safe and conservative business principles the organization will become less than a business association and unworthy of support.

I would be glad to know that the action of the men who are selling could be justified—that they have a just cause and sufficient reason for selling now and placing stumbling blocks in the way of the organization for they must know that before we can sell we have to climb over every load they put on the market. If absolute necessity impels these sellers, I have no criticism to make. And I hereby challenge in all fairness and friendliness, any person who is now selling to show why he considers his action justified. And it appears to me that if such action cannot be justified, the sellers are doing themselves as well as others an irreparable injury.

We have organized to sell our tobacco. We can sell, and get just as much, if not more, than we could get without organization. And it is perfectly plain that with the percentage we now control we can compel the buyers to pay all there is in the crop, allowing them an equitable profit also.

Under these conditions it is all the more astonishing to see men betraying their commercial savior for a few ready shekels of silver. I feel that the principle of the thing is all wrong, and being in this move heart and soul, on business principles and from beneficent motives, I will never be satisfied as long as a single honest farmer is outside of our business organization.

Our members should be of good cheer. So far we have been getting ten to one—ten loads of Equity to one load of outsiders, and similar expressions come from Ohio, Hancock and Daviess counties. President J. W. Dunn says that the largest tobacco delivery made during the history of Whitesville was made last Thursday. Next Monday the McLean county houses will open. Also the houses in Muhlenberg county. S. B. Lee has received over 75,000 pounds at the new Equity house at Narrows. One at Magan and one at Fordsville will open at once. So it seems that we are going to get the tobacco.

On the other hand, let us see what we are doing with the tobacco we have gotten heretofore. It is being sold from time to time, and were it not for our misguided fellowmen who have fed the fire all along, it would all have been sold ere this. But notwithstanding our handicap, we are selling some, with bright prospects for large sales to follow. I have been reliably informed that the entire holdings of Breckinridge county's 1904 crop has been sold. And I am also reliably informed that as soon as the 1904 crop is out of the way the 1905 crop will move quickly at our prices.

I do not, for a moment, believe that the "dumpers" are dishonest or mean. Far from it. I feel that they do not understand, and I would like to have them study over the lines of the Scotch bard who first wrote:

"Man's inhumanity to man makes countless thousands mourn"—

C. HAYES TAYLOR.

Among the Lodges.

At the regular meeting of Rough River Lodge, No. 110, K. of P., Tuesday night, the following officers were elected for the next semi-annual term: Chancellor Commander, C. M. Barnett; Vice Chancellor, William Fields, Central City, age 22; Bertie B. Robertson, McHenry, age 22; C. G. Bennett, Beda, age 22; John W. Taylor; Keeper of R. and S., Ora Tanner Heflin, age 20.

C. M. Crowe; Prelate, E. W. Ford; Master at Arms, J. C. Her; M. of F. J. H. Williams; M. of E. Sam Bach; Inside Guard, Geo. Lewis; Outside Guard, R. D. Walker; Master of Work, S. T. Barnett; Trustees, W. S. Tinsley and Dr. J. R. Pirtle.

There will be work in the second and third ranks next Tuesday evening.

Keystone Chapter, Royal Arch Masons, will meet in regular convention Saturday night. All companions are urged to attend.

The Masonic Lodge will meet next Monday night, it being the regular monthly session.

The Ladies of the Maccabees will elect officers at their regular meeting, Friday night, December 7, at which time a full attendance is requested, as there is other important business to be transacted.

In our lodge notes, last week, we gave Thursday night, the 29th inst., as the time for election of officers by the Maccabees. This information was furnished us by the Record Keeper. He now informs us that he was in error. It should have been Thursday night, December 6. At that time the lodge will also give a turkey supper.

SPECIAL TRAIN

Loaded Entirely With Prisoners and Federal Guards, Leaves Washington for Atlanta.

Washington, Nov. 27.—A train articular unique in the annals of railroading, left Washington at 2:45 o'clock this afternoon for Atlanta. It was a special prison train of five ordinary day coaches over the Southern railway, the passengers being eighty-seven Federal prisoners from various State penitentiaries in the Eastern States, and forty-seven guards.

The train will arrive in Atlanta to-morrow about noon, and the convicts will be transferred to the United States penal institution there, which recently was thrown open to Federal prisoners from all parts of the country.

Last night and this morning the prisoners were assembled here under the guard of United States Marshals and deputies. Fifteen of the convicts came from Pittsburgh, ten from Auburn, N. Y., twenty-four from New York City, six from Northern New York, eight from Boston, nine from Trenton, N. J., eight from Philadelphia and seven from Baltimore.

On the train they were handcuffed in couples, each pair being allotted four seats, so that they might make the long trip of 648 miles in comfort, and be able to obtain some sleep. The prisoners ranged in age from nineteen to seventy-five years.

Arrangements were made to give the guards and prisoners supper at Lynchburg, Va., and breakfast to-morrow at Central, S. C.

Ike Adair Leaves Property To Wife.

The will of Ike Adair, who died at Fordsville last week, leaves most of his property to his wife and daughter. This statement is given out by members of the family, the will not yet having been offered for probate. He leaves $1,000 to his mother, Mrs. Sarah Adair. The electric plant at Hawesville is bequeathed to his sisters, Mrs. Mary Whitworth and Miss Dodd Adair.

He left $100 each to the Methodist and Baptist churches of Fordsville and the Catholic church at Hawesville.

Marriage License.

The following marriage license have been issued since our last report: William H. Curtis, Reynolds, age 29, to Cora Martin, Fordsville, age 22; Geo. W. Kane, Beaver Dam, age 28, to Verna Stevens, Beaver Dam, age 23; J. T. Miller, Narrows, age 27, to Eva Toms, Narrows, age 15; Raymond Phillips, Hartford, age 23, to Dena Hudson, Beda, age 21; William Fields, Central City, age 22, to Bertie B. Robertson, McHenry, age 22; C. G. Bennett, Beda, age 22; to Ora Tanner Heflin, age 20.

SENSATIONAL TRAGEDY.

John Hill Kills David Glenn In Daviess County.

A Woman, the Daughter of Hill, the Cause of the Awful Crime.

The most sensational tragedy in recent years in Daviess county occurred shortly after 9 o'clock Saturday night, on the Owensboro and Ashby'sburg road, a short distance from Cleopatra, where John Hill plunged a knife into David Glenn's heart, killing him instantly.

The tragedy, it is alleged, is the result of too intimate relations between Glenn and Hill's daughter. The affair occurred just at the close of church at Cleopatra and a great sensation was created in the neighborhood.

Mrs. Brooks, over whom the killing occurred, left the home of her parents Saturday afternoon, stating that she was going to spend the night at the home of her cousin. It is said that David Glenn sent Edward Lamb, a cousin of Mrs. Brooks, to take her to church.

Mr. Hill heard that his daughter had gone to church and at once suspected that she would meet Glenn. In company with J. R. Barnes, Mr. Hill left his home, hoping to reach the church before the services ended.

He did not succeed in reaching the church before the meeting was over and met his daughter in a buggy with Glenn. He stopped Glenn's horse and told his daughter to get out of the buggy and get in his buggy. Barnes also left Hill's buggy. The young woman obeyed the commands of her father. Mr. Hill was standing by the side of the buggy talking to Glenn. It is said by Barnes that they were quarreling.

Suddenly a knife blade gleamed in the moon light and in an instant it was sunk into the body of Glenn, who was still seated in his buggy. With a groan the man sank to the bottom of the buggy and then fell to the ground. The horse became restless and started to run. The wheels of the buggy passed over his body. Mr. Hill then got into his buggy with his daughter and drove home. On examining the wound it was found that the knife blade had penetrated the heart.

Mrs. Brooks is the wife of James Brooks, of Owensboro. It is said that she has not lived with her husband for the past three months. It is understood that there were many rumors in the Cleopatra neighborhood of the alleged intimacy of Mrs. Brooks and Glenn.

Glenn was widower and leaves six children. He had many relatives in Owensboro and Daviess county. He lived on a farm in McLean county, just over the Daviess county line. In the past he has borne a fairly good reputation. He was between thirty-five and forty years of age.

Mr. Hill is one of the best known farmers in Daviess county. He declined to make a statement of the affair previous to the Coroner's inquest, saying that he would tell all at the proper time.

Hill was held over to the grand jury by County Judge Owen, Wednesday morning. His bond was fixed at $1,500, which he readily gave and was released. His sureties on his bond are M. M. Hill, J. J. McIntyre and D. C. Robertson.

Mr. N. C. Daniel Dead.

After suffering intensely from the effects of a fractured leg, sustained the 14th inst., Mr. N. C. Daniel died at his home at Beaver Dam, Wednesday evening, as a result of the injury. His remains will be interred at Green River cemetery this morning.

Funeral services will be conducted by the Cromwell Masonic lodge, of which he was a member, assisted by members of the Hartford and Beaver Dam lodges.

Mr. Daniel was a man of wide influence for good in Ohio county and especially in the neighborhood of his residence. At the breaking out of the war of the rebellion he volunteered his services to the Government as a private in the Federal army, in which capacity he served during nearly all of the war period.

In 1883 Mr. Daniel was elected Assessor of Ohio county, being a candidate on the Republican ticket that made the first sweeping victory in the county. He served with the highest efficiency as Assessor for four years, not standing for reelection. Mr. Daniel was born and reared in the Cromwell neighborhood, and resided there during his entire life except the past three years, during which time he resided at Beaver Dam.

RESORT TO INJUNCTION

Do Tobacco Growers to Prevent Owners of Pledged Tobacco From Selling.

Owensboro, Ky., Nov. 28.—Suit has been filed here by the American Society of Equity in the Daviess Circuit Court against Boyd Bristow, a tobacco planter, and who, it is claimed, is a member of the society, to prevent him from delivering his crop to J. M. Vaughn, who, it is alleged in the suit, is a representative of the tobacco trust in Owensboro.

The action is in the form of an injunction, and it is claimed that Bristow, as a member of the society, had pledged his crop to the pool, and that by selling to one of the trust representatives he had failed to keep his contract. It is stated that this is the first time this method has been employed to prevent members of the tobacco association from disposing of their crops outside the society.

There is a big fight on here between the growers and the buyers, and in order to prevent any further actions of a like character the auction warehouse in Owensboro will, in the future, sell the tobacco by numbers instead of in the name of the man who owns the crop.

Notes From The H. B. I.

Never in the history of the Hartford Business Institute has the work been so encouraging as now. New students are entering, and the old students are putting forth every effort to prepare themselves for the many positions that are open to efficient bookkeepers and stenographers.

Miss Ethel Westerfield left Tuesday for Williams Mines to take the place of stenographer with the Williams Coal Co., in the absence of Miss Lula Walker.

Calls are made upon us for office help faster than we can prepare students for them. We will, however, have several ready for positions by the first of the year. Some already have lucrative positions awaiting them.

Never was there such a demand for competent office help as now, and never was there such an army of earnest young men and young women entering our Business Colleges all over the country as are today, to prepare themselves for a successful business career.

Farmers' Institute.

Owing to the high water and the fact that yesterday was Thanksgiving day, only a small crowd was in attendance at the Farmers' Institute. Assistant Commissioner of Agriculture, R. C. Crenshaw, Frankfort, Ky., W. M. Cook, of Camden, Ohio, and E. S. Good, of Lexington, Ky., were present to instruct the farmers along lines of modern and improved methods of farming, stock breeding, and the utilization of farm land and farm products.

Notice.

There will be a meeting of the Grain Growers' Association of Ohio County at Hartford on the 8th day of December, 1906, at 10 o'clock a. m. All local unions of the A. S. of E. are entitled to one delegate.

Those interested will please be on hand. J. P. AUSTIN, Pres. Prentiss, Ky.

ADJOURNED PREMATURELY

Did Court, Because High Water Interfered With Attendance, of Witnesses, &c.

The Ohio Circuit Court adjourned Monday after being in session only seven days. The excessive high water was the cause of the term being brought to a close so soon, it being impossible for litigants and witnesses to reach Hartford. The following business was transacted after we last issued:

Wm. Render, of color, vs. McHenry Coal Company, verdict of jury $600 for plaintiff.

Mary Hoskins vs. Ed Cooper, Jr., by agreement of parties hereto this action was dismissed, the defendant to pay all costs except plaintiff's witness fees. It is said that a compromise was effected out of court by the defendant paying plaintiff $250.

Com'th vs. John Huling, charged with assault and battery, plea of guilty entered and fined $50, to be worked out on public highway if not paid or replevied.

Com'th vs. George Dodson, judgment against J. S. Young for $50 and costs of the forfeiture of said Dodson's bond for whom said Young was surely.

Com'th vs. Forrest Weathers, plea of guilty entered and fined $20.

The grand jury returned nineteen indictments classified as follows: Disturbing a lawful assembly, 1; maintaining a nuisance, 1; petit larceny, 1; malicious wounding, 1; using abusive and insulting language, 1; furnishing liquor to a minor, 3; shooting and wounding, 1; assault and battery, 1; unlawfully taking saw logs, 1; unlawfully selling liquor, 2; railroad failing to sound whistle, 1; shooting with intent to kill, 2; carrying concealed a deadly weapon, 3.

CERALVO.

Nov. 27.—Miss Betsy Rowe is visiting Miss Una Fulkerson. Mrs. Juda Southard, of Broadway, is at the bedside of her brother, Mr. Sam Smith.

Miss Mattie Herrel, Rockport, is visiting her cousin, Miss Mabel Garrett.

Miss Grace Reneer, Rochester, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Jess Evelyn.

The town serenaders were out Saturday night with some good music.

Oppie, the seven-year-old son of Mr. John T. Rowe, was buried here November 23.

Mrs. Anna Nourse and two daughters, Misses Pearl and Jessie, Central City, visited relatives here recently.

Green river is higher than ever was known before at this time of year and has done great damage.

Messrs. Mose and Press Smith are at the bedside of their brother, Mr. Sam Smith.

Dr. E. W. Ford, Hartford, was here Friday.

The Ceralvo Comedy Company will give an entertainment here Saturday night, December 1.

Mr. Sam Smith, who has been sick for sometime, is improving.

In Memory of C. H. Hatcher.

Mr. C. H. Hatcher, one of the oldest and most highly respected citizens of Ohio county, passed away at his home at Rockport, November 13. He was 83 years, 4 months and 27 days old. He professed religion 19 years ago, and was a faithful consistent Christian until death. His funeral was conducted at Lone Star church by Rev. Wheeler, after which the burial took place at Pond Run.

He was the father of eleven children, all dead but four, and had nineteen grand children, and nine great-grand children.

DR. POWELL GINNAT SEE GOVERNOR.

Because Rev. E. L. Powell, the foremost preacher in Louisville, declared he doubted the sincerity of Gov. Beckham on the liquor question, he has been notified that he cannot call at the Executive office at Frankfort. This leads the Courier-Journal to offer ing stinging rebuke to the Governor.

"And now Governor Beckham draws the line on Dr. Powell. The trouble with the Governor is, that whenever some one antagonizes him, that some one must be saddled with an unworthy motive. This mode of dealing with critics and criticism is common to Bosses, Bumblebees and Billy goats."

LAZY MAN.

To Be Sold to The Highest Bidder at Elizabeth town.

Elizabethtown, Ky., Nov. 26.—"Going, going, gone!" With up-raised mallet the sheriff of this county will this week auction off Dock Auberry, a shiftless white man who refuses to work. Auberry's services will go to his purchaser for the period of nine months. The proceedings will be under the State vagrancy law, which is called into use so little that action under it invariably attracts attention. He was tried last week and convicted, being found by the verdict, "Strong, ablebodied, with no visible means of support, and too lazy to work."

FOR THE BUSY READER.

In a congratulatory speech to the officers and

PROBLEM NO LONGER.

Getting Fair Prices for Tobacco Due to A. S. of E.

Especially is This the Case in The Kentucky Markets.

Getting fair prices is no longer a problem with the tobacco raisers of the south, and especially in Kentucky, says Up-to-Date Farming. The Society of Equity organization is so strong in this State now that no combination of capital, trusts, government reports or manipulators can beat down the price. It is in operation now, and a success from every point of view. On Burley leaf the price has been fixed, for this year's crop, at 15 cents per pound, and on dark the price will probably be 10 cents, although this figure has not yet been definitely decided upon.

The growers are in command of the situation, and their good fortune is due entirely to their adoption of the A. S. of E. system of marketing, and to the thoroughness with which its organization campaign has been conducted all over the state. It is just about the most popular thing in Kentucky.

Straws show which way the cider goes, and little things testify to the whirlwind success and popularity of the Society and its system of marketing wherever it is given a fair test.

These southern tobacco growers are jubilant over their success in finally being able to name the price of their own product. They certainly have achieved something worth talking about, but it is an outrage that it should be necessary to make any effort at all in order that a man who produces a thing may have a right to name the price at which he will sell it.

The farmer is practically the only producer who is not allowed to do his own thinking. He is expected to always ask at what price he may sell and also at what price he may buy. When at the request of his wife he stops at the general store for a few yards of muslin, he asks: "what do you want for it?" and pays the price. And when he drives up with a load of wheat or potatoes he asks: "what are you giving for it?" The farmer, it seems, has come to a perpetual question mark.

But he is getting tired of this "heads you win, tails I lose" game. He is actually getting busy right now on a square deal proposition and is bound to win out. The potato raisers of the North, the wheat growers of the West and the tobacco growers of the South are proving that it can be done. The growers of fruit and other grains and cotton will soon follow their lead. The movement is gaining headway—everybody is catching the step. The idea is now invading the cotton fields of the South in particular, where the situation is ripe for a wonderful organization.

Let the cotton growers, the potato growers, the wheat growers, and the growers of every crop in fair America take a lesson from the tobacco growers and win their strike as completely and in the same way. If the producers of this commodity, which is a luxury, have won the others, who has the absolutely necessary, surely can and will win.

To protect the little ones and for the information and satisfaction of mothers the contents of each bottle of that wonderful children remedy, Cascasweet, have been placed on every label. Cascasweet is a harmless compound of vegetable extracts that is wonderful in its beneficial effects on the stomachs of babies and children. Recommended and sold by all Druggists.

To Grow Gold.

New York American.

"All that glitters is not gold," but two Americans chemist now lay claim to having found the missing link of science that will permit them to transform the baser metals into substance, in search of which men have penetrated the snow white North of Alaska and the deepest, darkest wilds of Africa.

No longer, perhaps, will there be great gold rushes to foreign lands; no longer fights, for Prof. William Hatch, of California, says he has found one way of "growing gold," and John Raffel of 101 Varick street this city, asserts he has discovered another.

Prof. Hatch, with the aid of a stance that he calls "doradum," claims he can convert copper into pure gold in a trifling matter of eighteen weeks, and that he can change silver into gold in fifteen months. His system is simple. He burns copper and doradum together in a six-foot hole and lets them stay there for eighteen weeks. Then he says he digs up a great gold nugget. It takes silver one year longer under the ground to turn yellow, with the assistance of Prof. Hatch's obliging doradum.

The best treatment for indigestion and troubles of the stomach is to rest the stomach. It can be rested by starvation or by use of a good digestant which will digest the food eaten, thus taking the work off the stomach. At the proper temperature, a single teaspoonful of Kodol will wholly digest 3,000 grains of food. It will relieve the present annoyance, puts the stomach in shape to satisfactorily perform its functions. Good for indigestion, sour stomach, flatulence, palpitation of the heart and dyspepsia. Kodol is made in strict conformity with the National Pure Food and Drug Law. Sold by all Druggists.

QUAIL IN A COFFIN.

Peculiar Case Reported by Game Warden--Birds Were Shipped as a Corpse.

OWENSBORO MESSENGER.

Game Warden John Morgan Taylor is actively engaged these days in looking after violators of game laws, was notified yesterday that a peculiar case had developed in St. Louis on Thursday.

The St. Louis game warden had been annoyed by many reports of violations of the game law and sent several deputies out to search incoming trains.

One of the deputies, more astute than the others, walked into a baggage car Thursday, and among other things saw a coffin, a very plain affair, too. On the lid was a physician's certificate marked, "Edward O'Brien, Sedalia, Mo., typhoid fever."

"Poor Ed," said the deputy game warden. He was an old friend of mine. I must have a look at him."

Then he flashed his badge and opened the coffin. It contained thirty dozen quail. The game warden walked off with the coffin and its contents when the train reached St. Louis and now trouble is in store for the people who shipped the corpse.

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chat H. Hitchins

They Got What They Wanted. The word "suffragette" has come to mean a woman who makes a disturbance, presumably to attract attention to her cause, but usually the attention is attracted to herself and the cause suffers. George Meredith sees that the cause of the suffragist is all right, but that John Bull will not move for a solitary kick and to give him one only makes him more stubborn. The women arrested in England were treated as the vilest of criminals and no doubt got what they wanted in the way of notoriety attaching to them.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Don't Know It.

How To Find Out. Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains your linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

What to Do. There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy fulfills every want in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Safety druggists to 50c. and 15c.

You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful discovery and a book that tells more about it, both sent absolutely free by mail.

Address Dr. Kilmer & Son, Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

NO PRINTERS THERE.

But Bankers, Lawyers, Doctors, Brokers, Farmers and Mechanics are Plentiful.

The Ohio Penitentiary News, for many years a famous and flourishing daily paper published by convicts, has suspended publication, for the very good reason that there is not left in that big penal institution a single man who can handle type.

There is not a printer in the Ohio penitentiary.

Bankers are there in plenty. More than twenty are there, and more on the way. Several convict banks might be operated, with men to spare.

Enough lawyers are there to take care of an enormous amount of legal business.

Doctor, brokers and other "eminently respectable" citizens are not lacking.

Business men, farmers, mechanics and representatives of almost every other department of industrial activity are common there.

But there is not one printer.

The fact throws new light on a character that has long been commonly misjudged.

The printer to-day is a home owner. He is of fixed employment, and is the head of a family.

He is—and always was—far above the average man in information and intelligence. All the notable events of human life pass through his hands and make impress on his brain.

The fact that more than twenty bankers are in the Ohio penitentiary and not one printer, tells of the relative honesty of to-day—and tells even more. It tells us that the most common and dangerous crimes of to-day are being committed not by the world workers.

Here is our condensed opinion of the Original Laxative Cough Syrup:

"Nearly all other cough syrups are constipating especially those containing opiates. Kennedy's Laxative (containing) Honey and Tar moves the bowels. Contains no opiates. Conforms to the National Pure Food and Drug Law. Sold by all druggists.

How They Fleece Each Other.

It was a dull day in the Wall street broker's office. The broker was sitting in his office shooting flies, when an idea struck him. Grabbing quickly he captured one of them and, daubing a little mucilage on a piece of paper, let the fly's legs dangle in it. Then, mounting a chair, he placed the fly carefully on the wall. Pretty soon a broker friend came in.

"Jingo, but this is dull," said the owner of the office, stretching himself and yawning. "If it wasn't for the flies I would go to sleep."

"But, say," he remarked, brightening up, "I'll tell you what I'll do. See that fly over there on the wall. I'll bet you $100 it doesn't move in five minutes."

"You're on," said broker No. 2, looking around at the other flies buzzing merrily.

He settled.

Mountain of Gold

could not bring as much happiness to Mrs. Lucia Wilke, of Caroline, Wis., as did one 25c box of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, when it completely cured a running sore on her leg, which had tortured her 23 long years. Greatest antiseptic healer of Piles, Wounds, and Sores. 25c at Z. Wayne Griffin & Bro's. Drug Store.

Live Stock Notes.

We are not at a standstill; we are running a good race in the mad rush for perfection and better things. The last three years our swine breeders have made great advancement in the hog industry.

More people are thinking seriously about sheep than ever before in the history of this country.

Care in the selection of the ram at the head of the flock oftentimes doubles the profit made from the lambs.

If the consumption of mutton increases as it has in the past ten years or even five years, there will be no danger of getting an over supply of sheep.

The secret of growing a good first-class calf is to never let it become stunted.

Damaged feed should not be fed to horses, as it will produce inflammation and other bowel troubles and skin diseases.

The kind of farm we have, nearness to market and our likes and dislikes are all to be taken into consideration when determining the kind of cattle we handle.

Water and plenty of it is absolutely necessary in fattening cattle.

In high grade dairy herds, raise heifers from good cows sired by good bulls. In any herd the quantity of the calves must be maintained or the herd will decline.

We will not attempt to lay down any hard and fast rule as to how many sheep should be kept on any farm, but we are firmly of the opinion that some sheep should be profitably kept on almost every farm.

They will not only serve to keep the pastures free from weeds, but they will also prove excellent scavengers for cleaning up the stubble fields after harvest and all the odd corners on the farm.

Good for everything a salve is used for and especially recommended for piles. That is what we say of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. On the market for years and a standby in thousands of families. Get DeWitt's. Sold by all druggists.

SUBSCRIPTIONS COMING.

Substantial Interest is Being Shown in Kentucky Jamestown Exposition Exhibit.

Subscriptions have begun to come into the headquarters of the Kentucky Jamestown Exposition Commission in Louisville, and the work is now well launched. All funds received will be used in the construction of a Kentucky building at Jamestown, Va., during next year's exposition and in the collection, transportation, installment and maintenance of exhibits of the state's products and resources.

The canvass for funds which is now in progress is being thoroughly prosecuted in every section of the State, and Kentucky will doubtless have distinction of the most unique State Building in the Exposition group.

It will be a replica of the historic Fort of Boonesboro and an architect is now working on the plans of that structure. This building in itself will be an elaborate forestry display of the State. All State Buildings will face on the beach of Hampton Roads where an elegant view of the sea with arriving and departing vessels can be had.

Need a good cathartic? A pill is best. Say a pill like DeWitt's Little Early Risers. About the most reliable on the market. Sold by all druggists.

Insurance Department of Kentucky

Frankfort, Aug. 13th, 1906. Whereas, The National Life Insurance Company, located at Montpelier, Vt., is possessed of the actual capital required under the laws of this Commonwealth, and has complied with all the requirements of said laws which are applicable to Life Insurance Companies incorporated by or doing business in other States of the United States:

Now therefore, I, Henry R. Prewitt, Insurance Commissioner for the State of Kentucky, in pursuance of the authority vested in me by the laws of this Commonwealth, do hereby certify that C. M. Barnett and C. E. Smith, of Hartford, in the County of Ohio, are authorized as Agents of the aforesaid Company to transact the business of Insurance for one year from Aug. 1, 1906, in this State, as provided by the laws thereof.

In Testimony Whereof, I have hereunto subscribed my name, and caused my official Seal to be affixed on the day and year first above written.

HENRY R. PREWITT,
Insurance Commissioner.

Matrimony is Rewarded.

In order to influence their clerk to marry the firm of Swift & Co., will give a wedding present of $50 to each man in the employ of the company upon the announcement of his marriage. The inference is that the services of married men are worth much more to the company.

Stung All Around.

A barrister named Bushe was trying a case in Limerick before Chief Baron O'Grady. Just before the close of the lawyer's speech an ass began to bray loudly outside the courtroom, the window of which opened on a pasture.

"Wait a moment," said the chief baron. One at a time, Mr. Bushe, if you please."

The barrister presently had a good chance to retort. When O'Grady

28 YEARS

Of Honest Business Reputation is Back of Every

MONUMENT

Sold By Us.

Geo. Mischel & Sons, Props.

Owensboro Monumental Works,

412-414 E. Main St. Yards 214-216-218 Clay St.,

OWENSBORO, - KENTUCKY.

Get Our Prices and We Guarantee to Save You Money on All Good Honest Work.

GET THE BEST

Substantial Interest is Being Shown in Kentucky Jamestown Exposition Exhibit.

Subscriptions have begun to come into the headquarters of the Kentucky Jamestown Exposition Commission in Louisville, and the work is now well launched. All funds received will be used in the construction of a Kentucky building at Jamestown, Va., during next year's exposition and in the collection, transportation, installment and maintenance of exhibits of the state's products and resources.

The printer to-day is a home owner.

He is of fixed employment, and is the head of a family.

He is—and always was—far above the average man in information and intelligence. All the notable events of human life pass through his hands and make impress on his brain.

But there is not one printer.

The fact throws new light on a character that has long been commonly misjudged.

The printer to-day is a home owner.

He is of fixed employment, and is the head of a family.

He is—and always was—far above the average man in information and intelligence. All the notable events of human life pass through his hands and make impress on his brain.

But there is not one printer.

The fact throws new light on a character that has long been commonly misjudged.

The printer to-day is a home owner.

He is of fixed employment, and is the head of a family.

He is—and always was—far above the average man in information and intelligence. All the notable events of human life pass through his hands and make impress on his brain.

But there is not one printer.

The fact throws new light on a character that has long been commonly misjudged.

The printer to-day is a home owner.

He is of fixed employment, and is the head of a family.

He is—and always was—far above the average man in information and intelligence. All the notable events of human life pass through his hands and make impress on his brain.

But there is not one printer.

GREATEST OF EXPOSITIONS.

Jamestown Ter-Centennial, Commemorating America's 300th Anniversary, to be an Elaborate Celebration.

Of all exhibition held in the United States since the Philadelphia Centennial in 1876, the Jamestown Ter-Centennial to be held on the shores and waters of Hampton Roads, near the cities of Norfolk, Portsmouth and Newport News, Va., April 26 to November 30, 1907, is to be the most unique, and in originality and novelty will completely eclipse all previous Expositions.

The celebration commemorates the most important event in history—the founding of the first English-speaking settlement in America, at Jamestown, Va., in 1607, where Captain John Smith and a small party of colonists established a village from which has grown America, with nearly one hundred million population. The celebration will show the remarkable position attained by the United States in history and education, together with the marvelous industrial development and commercial expansion during three hundred years. Contemporaneous with the Exposition will be held on the waters of Hampton Roads the greatest naval pageant ever witnessed in the world, in which every type of war vessel from the navies of all the foreign nations will participate.

The grounds cover more than four hundred acres, with two miles of water front, facing the greatest waterway in the world, and commands an unsurpassed view of innumerable points of national and historic interest.

More than twenty-five exhibit places are now nearing completion. They will be of semi-permanent construction and in appointments will excel any similar group of buildings ever erected.

Another attractive feature will be the government pleasure pier, extending two thousand feet into Hampton Roads. At either end it will be surmounted with light towers and a working exhibit of wireless telegraphy. The entire structure will be illuminated by thousands of arc and incandescent electric lights, affording an excellent view of the naval display.

Many reasons combine to make the celebration the most successful ever attempted, and when President Roosevelt touches an electric button, April 26 next year, signifying the formal opening of the gates, the thousands of visitors will not be disappointed in the wonders and attractions of the Jamestown Ter-Centennial.

Fortunate Missourians.

"When I was a druggist, at Livonia, Mo., writes T. J. Dwyer, now of Graysonville, Mo., "three of my customers were permanently cured of consumption by Dr. King's New Discovery, and are well and strong to-day. One was trying to sell his property and move to Arizona, but after using New Discovery a short time he found it unnecessary to do so. I regard Dr. King's New Discovery as the most wonderful medicine in existence." Surest Cough and Cold cure and Throat and Lung healer. Guaranteed by Z. Wayne
Griffin & Bro., Druggists. 50c and $1. Trial bottle free.

When To Give Their Hand.

There are a few people who have not suffered at one time or another by the off-hand manner in which they were introduced to others. This kind of introduction is likely to embarrass some people, just as the careful and gracious introduction is one of the essentials in putting strangers at ease.

In introducing people the greatest care should be taken to pronounce both names distinctly. If one name has escaped the introducer's memory it is safest and best to excuse one's self and ask for the forgotten name. The most delicate sensibilities should not be wounded by such a slip of memory, for who is there who has not, at some time or another, quite forgotten a well known name, says Woman's Life.

The debatable question as to whether a woman should shake hands with a man who is being presented to her has been solved by making it only obligatory for the woman to offer her hand to the man

Trust to Nature.

A great many Americans, both men and women, are thin, pale and puny, with poor circulation, because they have ill-treated their stomachs by hasty eating or too much eating, by consuming alcoholic beverages, or by too close confinement to home, office or factory, and in consequence the stomach must be treated in a natural way before they can rectify their earlier mistakes. The muscles in many such people, in fact in every weary, thin and thin-blooded person, do their work with great difficulty. As a result fatigue comes early, is extreme and lasts long. The demand for nutritive aid is ahead of the supply. To insure perfect health every tissue, bone, nerve and muscle should take from the blood certain materials necessary to its proper action. It is necessary to prepare the stomach for the work of taking up from the food what is necessary to make good, rich, red blood. We must go to Nature for the remedy. There were certain roots known to the Indians of this country before the advent of the whites which later came to the knowledge of the settlers and which are now growing rapidly in professional favor for the cure of obstinate stomach and liver troubles. These are found to be safe and yet certain in their cleansing and invigorating effect upon the stomach, liver and blood.

These are: Golden Seal root, Queen's root, Stone root, Bloodroot, Mandrake root, etc. Then there is Black Cherry bark. The medicinal principles residing in the native roots when extracted with glycerine as a solvent make the most reliable and efficient stomach tonic and liver invigorator, when combined in just the right proportions, as in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Where there is bankrupt vitality—such as nervous exhaustion, bad nutrition—and thin blood, the body acquires vigor and the nerves, blood and all the tissues feel the favorable effect of this sovereign remedy.

Although some physicians have been aware of the high medicinal value of the above mentioned plants, yet few have used pure glycerine as a solvent and usually the doctors' prescriptions called for the ingredients in varying amounts, with alcohol.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" is a scientific preparation compounded of the glycerine extracts of the above mentioned vegetable ingredients and contains no alcohol or harmful habit-forming drugs.

when the occasion is informal and the man is being introduced to one person at a time. When he is meeting a group of people it makes it embarrassing and awkward to shake hands with all.

A TRADE DRAWER

Unique Plan to Attract People to Town to Their Profit.

A plan of drawing trade to a town that has been successfully worked at several points might be adopted at Hartford. The plan is as follows: An agreement was reached between all the merchants whereby they offered special sales on certain days, each merchant selecting some special line of goods upon which he made a lower price than usual. Thus one dry goods house would sell gloves at a special price, while another would offer bargains in dress goods. One hardware merchant would reduce the price on skates. Every line of business was represented and care was taken that no conflicts occurred. Prizes were then offered to the farmer bringing in the best load of grain or the handsomest baby and bargain day was extensively advertised in the surrounding country, the names of the merchants and their special sales being in all cases stated. The farmer responded in a most gratifying manner and the merchants were well pleased with the value of at least one of the recent finds.

OLD STORY REVIVED.

Discovery of Gold and Silver in Ky. Mountains Revive Old Traditions.

The finding of so much gold and silver ore in Estill and Powell counties, whether in paying quantities or not, revives the old story of Swift's silver and gold mines, the relations of which naturally point to one or more of the fields now spoken of. According to traditions, the story briefly runs about thus:

"In the very earliest days of Kentucky, and when there were no white settlers in Estill or Powell counties, and but a small number in Fayette and a few lower counties, a fellow by the name of Swift and a comrade were up in that section and once, when night fell them, they sought refuge under a cliff out of the path of Indians. There they built up a fire against a large rock and cooked some of the wild game they had killed that day. It being cool weather, they kept the fire burning all night. The next morning before departing they observed that a great deal of both gold and silver had been melted and run out of the rock, and they picked a good sample of the metal, and making further investigation they found it in great abundance.

They started for Lexington, and Swift being overly eager about the find, killed his partner on the way to the settlement. Swift was stricken blind shortly after his arrival, and the samples of metal, he brought proved to be exceptionally rich.

Swift being blind could not return to this valuable find, but told a number of friends that to reach the mine they would come to the mouth of Lulbegrud creek, and from there it would take from early morning until about 2 o'clock in the afternoon to ride horseback to the mine."

This description of the distance will tally with the State Rock find or the Station Camp mine, but as to the real truthfulness of the story nothing is known, and it is possible that the whole story is a hoax, still it will hold to confirm the belief as to the value of at least one of the recent finds.

The Farm Needs Sheep.

Sheep are oftentimes spoken of as a nuisance by some people, but wise land owners give them credit as being great renovators of run-down or worn out farms, and even call them fertility conservers.

They are the latter and more, too. The life and habits of sheep make

SAVED MY LIFE

—That's what a prominent druggist said of Scott's Emulsion a short time ago. As a rule we don't use or refer to testimonials in addressing the public, but the above remark and similar expressions are made so often in connection with Scott's Emulsion that they are worthy of occasional note. From infancy to old age Scott's Emulsion offers a reliable means of remedying improper and weak development, restoring lost flesh and vitality, and repairing waste. The action of Scott's Emulsion is no more of a secret than the composition of the Emulsion itself.

What it does it does through nourishment—the kind of nourishment that cannot be obtained in ordinary food. No system is too weak or delicate to retain Scott's Emulsion and gather good from it.

We will send you a sample free.

Be sure that this picture on the front of a label is on the upper of every bottle of Emulsion you buy.

SCOTT & BOWNE
Chemists
409 Pearl St., N. Y.
50c. and $1; all druggists.

them not only conservers of fertility, but distributors of it where most needed, if given an opportunity. Though sheep are averse to water and always seek an elevation for their resting place, they do like the succulent growth, even though it be weeds, found in the lowland of a field or pasture which has been enriched by the washing from the higher surrounding land.

These two peculiarities of sheep once came under my particular observation. When I turned some sheep into a clover field they at once sought out the spots where the clover did not catch and eagerly devoured any weeds or pigeon grass that had taken possession of the space. They then sought the weeds and succulent grass in the low places and runs in the fields, leaving the clover on the high land, where most need to enrich the soil, untouched, only touching this grass when practically every thing else had been eaten.

More than this, when night came the sheep sought the higher portions of the field for their resting place, and their droppings there deposited the fertility gathered during the day from the lower land, thus conveying back what had been washed away through the process of nature and cultivation. A farm upon which sheep are kept ought to be not only fertile, but also evenly fertile, which is a much desired condition. Farms are very few which cannot, with a profit, keep sheep.

Deaths from Appendicitis decreases in the same ratio that the use of Dr. King's New Life Pills increase. They save you from danger and bring quick and painless release from constipation and the ills growing out of it. Strength and vigor always follow their use. Guaranteed by Z. Wayne Griffin & Bro., Druggist. 25c. Try them.

Disadvantageous All The Same.

Fist tramp. It's a grand thing, after all, to have no employer and to be your own master.

Second tramp. That's all very well. But it's darned annoying not to be able to exercise the right to strike they're talking about such a lot just now.

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Charl H. Fletcher

Apple Orchard Land.

Is land a little hilly, with plenty of stones, good for an apple orchard?

Neither the hills nor the stones will render the land unfit for an orchard unless the hills are so steep as to prevent cultivation or such as will wash badly or the stones so plentiful as to interfere with cultivation, but main considerations are the nature of the soil, local conditions of drainage, etc. Apples do best on clay soil that is clayey loam underlaid with clay and limestone, and such are not apt to be found on gravelly or stony hills. High-rolling land providing water and air drainage are preferred. Level land will answer fully as well if the drainage question are provided for. The very best land as well as the poorest sites for orchards, are found in western and southern Wisconsin, and in many cases less than one-half mile apart; the former on the high, clay hills, bordering on the river banks and the latter in the black alluvial soils of the valleys.

DeWitt's Kidney and Bladder Pills act on both kidneys and liver, and as a result afford the quickest relief from those troubles resulting from an excess of uric acid. Such troubles as rheumatism, back-ache, sciatica, etc., are quickly relieved by a few doses of this modern remedy for the kidneys. Sold by all druggists.

The Price of Proficiency.

Herkimer James, the well-known scientist, was talking in New York about the bill of $25,000 that Dr. Frank Billings presented to the Marshall Field estate.

"It seems a big fee," said Prof. James. "But whenever physicians' fees seem extortionate I think of a certain famous jeweler's specialist.

"A patient of this specialist's coming to pay his bill, growled:

"Doctor, it seems to me that $500 is a big charge from that operation of mine. It didn't take you over half a minute."

"My dear sir," the other answered in learning to perform that operation in half a minute I have spoiled over eleven pecks of such eyes as yours."

CASTORIA

The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over 30 years, has borne the signature of Charl H. Fletcher, and has been made under his personal supervision since its infancy. All Counterfeits, Imitations and "Just-as-good" are but Experiments that trifle with and endanger the health of Infants and Children—Experience against Experiment.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is Pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. It destroys Worms and relieves Feverishness. It cures Diarrhea and Wind Colic. It relieves Teething Troubles, cures Constipation and Flatulence. It assimilates the Food, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. The Children's Panacea—The Mother's Friend.

GENUINE CASTORIA ALWAYS

Bears the Signature of

Charl H. Fletcher

The Kind You Have Always Bought

In Use For Over 30 Years.

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, 77 MURRAY STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

OUR CLUBBING RATES.

THE REPUBLICAN and Louisville Herald.....	$1.25
THE REPUBLICAN and Louisville Daily Herald.....	2.00
THE REPUBLICAN and Courier-Journal.....	1.50
THE REPUBLICAN and St. Louis Globe-Democrat.....	1.75
THE REPUBLICAN and Home and Farm.....	1.25
THE REPUBLICAN and Lippencott's and Cosmopolitan...	3.25
THE REPUBLICAN and Twice-a-Week Owensboro Inquirer	1.75
THE REPUBLICAN and Daily Owensboro Inquirer.....	3.70
THE REPUBLICAN and Twice-a-Week O'boro Messenger	1.75
THE REPUBLICAN and National Magazine	$1.50

Address all orders to
THE REPUBLICAN.

RANDALL T. COLLINS.

Z. WAYNE GRIFFIN.

When in Louisville

STOP AT

Senning's EUROPEAN HOTEL,

The Home for Ohio County People.

Elegant Clean Rooms, and Polite Attention. S. W. Corner Second and Jefferson Streets.

COLLINS & GRIFFIN, Props.

$24 BUYS $44 SCHOLARSHIP

until the 100 allotted to be sold at a discount, on account of the opening of our Evansville College, are sold. No vacation; enter any time.

27 Colleges in 15 States $300,000.00

Capital; indorsed by business men from Maine to California; 17 years' success. We also teach BY MAIL. Write for prices.

POSITIONS SECURED

or MONEY REFUNDED.

Call or send for Catalogue.

And all other points East.

Information cheerfully furnished on application at City Ticket Office "Big Four," No. 259 Fourth Avenue, or write to S. J. GATES, Gen'l Agent Passenger Dept., Louisville, Ky.

H. J. RHEIN, General Passenger Agent, Cincinnati, O.

Information cheerfully furnished on application at City Ticket Office "Big Four," No. 259 Fourth Avenue, or write to S. J. GATES, Gen'l Agent Passenger Dept., Louisville, Ky.

H. J. RHEIN, General Passenger Agent, Cincinnati, O.

Information cheerfully furnished on application at City Ticket Office "Big Four," No. 259 Fourth Avenue, or write to S. J. GATES, Gen'l Agent Passenger Dept., Louisville, Ky.

H. J. RHEIN, General Passenger Agent, Cincinnati, O.

Information cheerfully furnished on application at City Ticket Office "Big Four," No. 259 Fourth Avenue, or write to S. J. GATES, Gen'l Agent Passenger Dept., Louisville, Ky.

H. J. RHEIN, General Passenger Agent, Cincinnati, O.

Information cheerfully furnished on application at City Ticket Office "Big Four," No. 259 Fourth Avenue, or write to S. J. GATES, Gen'l Agent Passenger Dept., Louisville, Ky.

H. J. RHEIN, General Passenger Agent, Cincinnati, O.

Information cheerfully furnished on application at City Ticket Office "Big Four," No. 259 Fourth Avenue, or write to S. J. GATES, Gen'l Agent Passenger Dept., Louisville, Ky.

H. J. RHEIN, General Passenger Agent, Cincinnati, O.

Hartford Republican

Issued by the Hartford Publishing Company.
(INCORPORATED.)

C. M. BARNETT, } Editors.
C. E. SMITH,

TELEPHONES.
Cumberland..... 34.
Rough River..... 22.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 30.

We are authorized to announce W. W. PARK of the Beds' Predict, a candidate for Representative in the General Assembly from this, the 20th district, subject to the action of the Republican party.

Examine the label on your paper. If it is not correct notify us.

Does the Governor intend to defy both the saloon keepers and the preachers?

Did you relish that Thanksgiving dinner, without having remembered the poor at your door?

Did you notice that Governor Beckham's Thanksgiving proclamation was more fervent than usual?

MR. HEARST has evidently concluded that service in the ranks is just as honorable, and much less expensive.

SOME people who were disappointed in the recent election, may think that the trusts are raising salaries for mere spite.

IT is said a Washington woman is about to make a dash for the North Pole. Why not to the moon? There is a man in that.

IF the Republicans expect to elect the next Governor of Kentucky, his nomination must not come via Washington City.

THEY are still working on last year's election in Louisville. We hope it will not lap over on next year's State election.

A FEDERAL office holder has just as much right to his choice for party nominees as any one else. No more than his choice, however.

MR. BRYAN will not confess that he has repudiated silver, but he must admit that silver has not stood by him as it might have done.

THE French courts have refused to grant Bonj alimony, on the ground that he is a man. Wonder if they took any proof on the question.

IT is a very poor Washington correspondent, who cannot now tell us exactly what the President will say in his coming message to Congress.

It is quite natural that James J. Hill should think that a railroad knows more about running a government than a government knows about running a railroad.

IF poor old Senator Platt had no money the women would not be fighting so furiously over him. He made a mistake in not giving away all his money except his salary.

JOHN W. LANGLEY has mortally offended Urey Woodson by being elected to Congress from Kentucky, after having collected funds to aid Caleb Powers in obtaining a fair trial.

KENTUCKY Republicans should think more than once before they decide upon a leader for next year's campaign. It will be no child's play to dislodge the present Democratic State machine.

WITH the returns all in from the Congressional races, in the recent election, it is shown that the vote was close in Kentucky. A high class Republican State ticket will sweep the platter clean next year.

It seems strange that, after all that President Roosevelt has done for the negroes, he should be the victim of numerous resolutions by them, denouncing him for dismissing a regiment of black murderers in uniform.

CERTAIN Democratic newspapers are very busy selecting the Republican candidate for Governor just now. At the proper time, we have no doubt, the Republicans, themselves, will have some choice in the matter.

PRESS reports say that Congressman Bennett, one of the Kentucky Republican "Big Four" patronage dispensers, was recently swindled out of $2,000, by signing a check without looking at it, thinking it was for $20. He no doubt acquired the careless habit signing applications for office.

A NEWS item saying that Governor Beckham has appointed some one to sit in a certain case in Judge Cantrill's place, reminds us that Judge Cantrill has been drawing $5,000 per year from the State Treasury for two years without having performed a day's service, as Judge of the Court of Appeals.

SINCE the Hartford Herald has taken occasion in its customary hysterical way to vent its spleen on THE REPUBLICAN because we jokingly glibbed about its slow progress, we have gone through the musty files of that publication in our office to learn what it said about us when we donned the eight-page form. In their issue of November, 23 1903, we find the following: "The Hartford REPUBLICAN quotes some of its subscribers as endorsing its new form, while we have heard several Republicans objecting to it, but they all unite in condemning the gloomy black heading across the top. The paper has been under its new management just about long enough to find out that some of its friends are ready to 'put a head on it.' This, gentle reader, is the way the Herald 'kindly stated the facts' of our change to an eight-page paper and 'wished us progress.'

THE MAN FOR GOVERNOR.

"It is not too early for the Republicans to be considering a candidate for Governor to oppose State Auditor Hager. The selection of a candidate next year is a matter of more than ordinary concern to the party and to the people of Kentucky. This time Democracy will enter the contest exhausted from a bitter factional fight. The primary struggle was one for existence. The administration won, and now those, who can not make terms of peace, are nonentities unless they can defeat the administration at the election.

The normal Democratic majority in Kentucky may easily be overcome under such circumstances, provided the Republican party presents a solid front. To do this and carry the entire party vote, a candidate for Governor must be named, who will meet with the approval of all the leaders and the rank and file of the party. Good men there are a plenty, but the most of them bear the scars of other battles, and have earned the envy of their co-workers. No doubt the convention will be able to choose from several available, but just now we are certain of but one man, who measures up to all requirements for an ideal candidate, an excellent executive and a brilliant leader, and at the same time is free from the impediment of fractional alliance. That man is Judge James Breathitt, of Hopkinsville. He has no superiority at the bar of West Kentucky, and as an orator he probably has no peer in all the State. He is a man of the people, and has proved his campaigning qualities in his race for Circuit Judge. Furthermore, Breathitt has not been an office seeker, and is not now asking for the nomination. It is said by his intimates that he has agreed privately to stand for the nomination, if the party want him."—Paducah Sun.

Just so, brother. Your position is certainly a most tenable one. We must nominate a man large enough to don the Gubernatorial togs with honor to himself and credit to the party. We have all along been advocating the nomination of Judge Holt but if he does not enter the race we are for Judge Breathitt to the finish.

Monthly Report of Hartford College for November.

Total yearly enrollment in all regular departments, 245; total number in attendance during the month, 213; average number attending each day, 192; average number of days attended per pupil, 18; number of cases of tardiness, 63; per cent. of attendance based on enrollment, 90; per cent. of attendance based on number of days pupils belonged, 94.

The attendance for the month is not so good as the attendance for October this is due to sickness and to high waters.

The number of cases of tardiness is entirely too large. Pupils should never be tardy except for the most urgent reasons.

Patrons have been very good and kind in assisting teachers in every way, and we hope that they will be able to keep their children in school every day, because it is chiefly regularity of attendance which determines the child's progress in school. G.

No Discount For Baldness.

A customer in a downtown barber shop got into a heated argument with the boss barber over the price of a hair cut.

"See here," he said, "I'm bald-headed. There certainly can't be nearly so much work in trimming the careless habit signing applications for office.

A NEWS item saying that Governor Beckham has appointed some one to sit in a certain case in Judge Cantrill's place, reminds us that Judge Cantrill has been drawing $5,000 per year from the State Treasury for two years without having performed a day's service, as Judge of the Court of Appeals.

SINCE the Hartford Herald has taken occasion in its customary hysterical way to vent its spleen on THE REPUBLICAN because we jokingly glibbed about its slow progress, we have gone through the musty files of that publication in our office to learn what it said about us when we donned the eight-page form. In their issue of November, 23 1903, we find the following: "The Hartford REPUBLICAN quotes some of its subscribers as endorsing its new form, while we have heard several Republicans objecting to it, but they all unite in condemning the gloomy black heading across the top. The paper has been under its new management just about long enough to find out that some of its friends are ready to 'put a head on it.' This, gentle reader, is the way the Herald 'kindly stated the facts' of our change to an eight-page paper and 'wished us progress.'

THE MAN FOR GOVERNOR.

"It is not too early for the Republicans to be considering a candidate for Governor to oppose State Auditor Hager. The selection of a candidate next year is a matter of more than ordinary concern to the party and to the people of Kentucky. This time Democracy will enter the contest exhausted from a bitter factional fight. The primary struggle was one for existence. The administration won, and now those, who can not make terms of peace, are nonentities unless they can defeat the administration at the election.

The normal Democratic majority in Kentucky may easily be overcome under such circumstances, provided the Republican party presents a solid front. To do this and carry the entire party vote, a candidate for Governor must be named, who will meet with the approval of all the leaders and the rank and file of the party. Good men there are a plenty, but the most of them bear the scars of other battles, and have earned the envy of their co-workers. No doubt the convention will be able to choose from several available, but just now we are certain of but one man, who measures up to all requirements for an ideal candidate, an excellent executive and a brilliant leader, and at the same time is free from the impediment of fractional alliance. That man is Judge James Breathitt, of Hopkinsville. He has no superiority at the bar of West Kentucky, and as an orator he probably has no peer in all the State. He is a man of the people, and has proved his campaigning qualities in his race for Circuit Judge. Furthermore, Breathitt has not been an office seeker, and is not now asking for the nomination. It is said by his intimates that he has agreed privately to stand for the nomination, if the party want him."—Paducah Sun.

Just so, brother. Your position is certainly a most tenable one. We must nominate a man large enough to don the Gubernatorial togs with honor to himself and credit to the party. We have all along been advocating the nomination of Judge Holt but if he does not enter the race we are for Judge Breathitt to the finish.

Monthly Report of Hartford College for November.

Total yearly enrollment in all regular departments, 245; total number in attendance during the month, 213; average number attending each day, 192; average number of days attended per pupil, 18; number of cases of tardiness, 63; per cent. of attendance based on enrollment, 90; per cent. of attendance based on number of days pupils belonged, 94.

The attendance for the month is not so good as the attendance for October this is due to sickness and to high waters.

The number of cases of tardiness is entirely too large. Pupils should never be tardy except for the most urgent reasons.

Patrons have been very good and kind in assisting teachers in every way, and we hope that they will be able to keep their children in school every day, because it is chiefly regularity of attendance which determines the child's progress in school. G.

No Discount For Baldness.

A customer in a downtown barber shop got into a heated argument with the boss barber over the price of a hair cut.

"See here," he said, "I'm bald-headed. There certainly can't be nearly so much work in trimming

You Can Trust Your Own Eyes.

Our buyer has made the last and final addition to our Millinery supply. Great bargains have been picked up here and there. Bargains have been made out of stock on hand. Nothing but bargains confront you upon entering our Millinery section. You take no chance when you come to us for our Milliners.

WE STAND FOR QUALITY. WE PRACTICE ORIGINALITY.

All new Concreits in Millinery are brought out each week in our own exclusive production. Stylish, up-to-date Hats arranged on tables and priced as follows:

Soft Felt Stitched Hood Hats,

At Each, 25c.

Children's Felt Flats,

At Each, 50c.

Good stylish, ready to wear Hats,

At Each, 50c and 75c.

Another line of very stylish ready-to-wear and Trimmed Hats,

At Each 75c and $1.50.

The last line includes everything in high grade extremely stylish Hats price each.

At $1.50c to $3.00.

Your orders for special Hats can be promptly executed and shaped to suit your own ideas. We invite you to come and see this bargain collection of our up-to-date Millinery.

E. P. Barnes & Bros.,

Beaver Dam, Ky.

STUDIED THE ENEMY.

Admiral Sampson's Plans For the Bombardment of Havana.

Admiral Sampson had determined to begin the Spanish-American war by the bombardment of Havana, and on April 4, 1898, Evans, then captain, wrote a letter to the then editor of Harper's Weekly containing this paragraph:

"I shall have the honor of leading in the Iowa, and when we open at about 800 yards, with Indiana close astern, if those poor chaps from the Maine don't giggle in their collars it will be a wonder."

This was the pregnant part of the letter. Sampson was forbidden from Washington to attack Havana, much to his disappointment and wrath. To one sitting at a distance, not knowing Evans, not knowing of the proposed bombardment only as a rumor, the letter might have seemed a bit of bluster.

But after a few months chance put the log book of the New York, the flagship, in the way of the recipient of the letter and there he read Sampson's order for the bombardment of Havana, giving the order of the ships and designating the distance at which the firing should begin, precisely as Evans had stated them in the letter.

But why go in to within 800 yards of the new forts, which were much more heavily armed than the ships of Sampson's fleet? Months after reading the log book the recipient of the letter attended a dinner given in honor of Admiral Sampson.

The admiral made there one of the few speeches of his life, and in it he told the reason—a reason characteristic of his keen judgment and his boldness—for selecting 800 yards. He had found out that a short time before the Spaniards had momentarily awakened from their usual torpor and had practiced from the new works, firing at floating targets. They had floated these targets past their guns at 3,000 yards.

Sampson at once concluded that they supposed that he would attack at that distance and quickly determined to go in at 800 yards, for, he explained, the Spaniards, having once fixed their sights for a target 3,000 yards away, would not be able to change them, but would fire over his ships until he had dismounted their heavy pieces with his rapid fire guns. So the chain was completed, for we had the facts and the reason for them.—Harper's Weekly.

No Discount For Baldness.

A customer in a downtown barber shop got into a heated argument with the boss barber over the price of a hair cut.

"See here," he said, "I'm bald-headed. There certainly can't be nearly so much work in trimming this little fringe of hair on the back of my head as in cutting a whole mop of hair. Consequently it doesn't seem fair to charge so much."

"That is the contention of half the baldheaded men in town," sighed the barber wearily. "They don't take into consideration that a man who has but little hair is much more careful of it than one who has a good deal. Therefore a barber has to take extra pains with him. It goes pretty hard with the man with the shears, I can tell you, if he happens to clip off an extra hair. In view of the caution required he certainly earns the full price of a hair cut."—New York Press.

Power of the Will.

At a recent conversation a discussion arose about the power of the will. A certain guest of very self assertive character loudly declared that no one could will him to do anything against his inclination.

His challenge was taken up by a well known author, who led him out into the middle of the room, held his hands and gazed at him steadily for awhile, the rest of the company looking on expectantly. Presently the braggart said:

"What did I tell you, sir? You may gaze at me as long as ever you like, but I defy you to will me to do anything."

"Do you?" replied the author. "Well, I've been willing you to stand like a jackass in the middle of this room for five minutes, and, by George, you've done it!"

Licensed Auctioneer.

Squire W. Tichenor, of Point Pleasant, Ky., licensed auctioneer for Ohio county. Cumberland phone.

11-TF

Important Notice.

We have added a stock of building material, such as Sash, Doors, Columns, Moulding, Etc., Yellow Pine Flooring, Ceiling Metal, Paroid and Paper Roofing, in short, anything you may need in the building line.

We will saw your logs and plane your lumber. Call and see us.

BEAN BROS., Hartford Ky.

NOTICE.

Auction sale at Saunders Restaurant, in Hartford, Monday December 3, beginning at 2 o'clock.

Will sell to the highest bidders about 60 second-hand Sewing machines.

SAUNDERS & LIKENS.

RENDER.

Nov. 27.—Miss Ada Snell went to Springs, and F. G. Jones, Drakes-

THE KENTUCKY

Light and Power Co.

WILL WIRE YOUR HOUSE AT COST.

ELECTRIC LIGHTS ARE CLEAN, HEALTHY AND SAFE. NO HOME OR BUSINESS HOUSE SHOULD BE WITHOUT THEM, WHEN IN REACH.

M. L. HEAVRIN,

Manager.

AVOID the INTERNAL WRONGS of ALUM

Alum
in food causes

stomach disorders—Its continued use means permanent injury to health.

Following the advice of medical scientists, England and France have passed laws prohibiting its use in bread making.

American housewives should protect their households against Alum's wrongs by always buying pure Grape Cream of Tartar Baking Powder.

Pure Grape Cream of Tartar Powder is to be had for the asking—

Buy by name—

Royal

Hartford Republica...

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 30.

Illinois Central Railroad—Time Table.

North Bound.
No. 122 due 4:06 a.m.
No. 123 due 12:30 p.m.
No. 162 due 2:48 p.m.

South Bound.
No. 121 due 11:00 a.m.
No. 161 due 2:48 p.m.
No. 163 due 9:15 p.m.

Come to Carson & Co., for Shoes and Boots.

Sam Bach's $1.19 Hat display takes the prize.

For Carpets and Mattings come to Carson & Co.

Guns! Guns!! Guns!!! Where? At U. S. Carson's.

Mr. Clell Smith, Taffy, called to see us yesterday.

City Restaurant most up-to-date place in Hartford.

See our special Pants and Shoes in display window. SAM BACH.

Bring your Eggs, Chickens and Feathers to Carson & Co.

Scholarship in Massey Business College for sale at this office.

Buy your hats from Miss Lida Morton the Milliner at Carson & Co.

For Underwear, Overcoats or any kind of wear call on Carson & Co.

Born to the wife of Mr. Ernest Tweedell, Tuesday, a 10-pound boy.

Good values in Hats for men and boys $1.19. See window.

SAM BACH.

For Scholarship in the Bowling Green Business College apply at this office.

After a serious illness of several days, Mrs. Lee Long, is able to be up again.

Get your Clothing Cleaned and Pressed at Pearl's Pantorium, at Y. M. C. A. rooms.

Mr. J. W. Taylor, of the Beaver Dam neighborhood, made us a pleasant call last Saturday.

See Sam Bach's Clothing for winter. They fit good, look good and wear good.

Carson & Co. will pay 25 cents per dozen for eggs. They will take all you have.

Born, to Prof. and Mrs. I. S. Mason, Beaver Dam, last Sunday morning, a fine girl.

Mr. S. L. Stevens, of the South Beaver Dam neighborhood, called to see us yesterday.

Mr. Garfield Barnard, Deanfield, renewed his allegiance to THE REPUBLICAN Monday.

Mr. R. T. Collins left for Louisville Monday, after spending several days with his family here.

Moore & Crabtree have new Sorghum, fresh Cabbage, and a fine line of family Groceries. Call on them.

The Tailored Clothes you order at Pearl's Pantorium are cut to insure comfort without asking your vanity to pay for it.

This is the time to buy Overcoats and cloathing. Why not come where they have a big lot to select from.

CARSON & CO.

Do not fail to see G. B. Likens in regard to the Retail Merchants Protective Association. Branch will be in every county seat.

Ex-Sheriff Cal P. Keown returned last Friday from Globe, Arizona, with his man, Ansel Patton, whom he had gone there to bring back.

Telephone your orders. All work called for and delivered. Located in rooms formerly occupied by Y. M. C. A. PEARL'S PANTORIUM.

Miss Ethel Westerfield, a student in the Hartford Business Institute, has accepted a position as stenographer with the Williams Coal Company.

Call G. B. Likens' Home phone 66 and he will tell you all about Retail Merchants Protective Association with headquarters at Hartford for Ohio county.

City Restaurant will open up Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock and serve supper. Steak Meals, Fish Meals, Oyster Stew, Fried Oysters, Ice Cream, &c. Telephone your orders.

Mr. F. D. Baughn, Magan, has rented the store building into which the old Republican office has been converted and will open up a Gents Furnishing House the first of next January.

FOR SALE—Two-story house and lot on Clay street, Hartford. Lot 195 feet front, depth 570 feet. Good improvements. For further information see Miss Nettie Rogers. Terms easy. 17tf Merchants all over the county should call up G. B. Likens. Home phone 66 and investigate the proposition he has for this county in the way of protection for the Retail Merchants.

Elder W. B. Wright will fill his regular appointments at the Christian church next Sunday morning and evening. The subject of both of his discourses will be "Christ's talk with Nicodemus."

The following Ohio county citizens were empanneled as Petit jurors in the District Federal Court at Owensesboro the first of the week: L. M. Sandefur, Hartford; G. B. Smith, Taffy; J. A. Johnson, No Creek, and E. B. Finley, Baizetown.

A large party of Hartford people took an excursion trip on the gasoline boat, "We Three," last Sunday afternoon, to view the high waters. The boat went down as far as the Ben's Lick railroad cut, which was inspected by many of the party. About one hundred persons were on board.

A movement is on foot to merge the present electric light plant and ice plant with a water-works system, all to be under one management. The new company will be capitalized at $25,000, and will, if successful, put in first-class, up-to-date machinery and give us good lights with all night service. This is very much needed and should be encouraged by all or citizens.

Mr. George Mischel, of the firm George Mischel and Sons, Monument Works, Owensboro, was in to see us last Friday. He was here to superintend the erection of a monument in Oakwood, for the little child Mr. and Mrs. Alva Taylor. Notice their ad. in another column. This firm is twenty-eight years old and thoroughly reliable. They are represented in Hartford and vicinity by Mr. R. A. Anderson.

Messrs. O. R. Tinsley and William Lake, were among our callers Wednesday.

The hunting season will soon be on. Get your gun and ammunition at U. S. Carson's. 11tf

Mr. A. A. Sheffield, of the West Hartford neighborhood, called to see us Wednesday.

FOR SALE—A scholarship in the Hartford Business Institute. Call on or address THE REPUBLICAN.

Leave your laundry at Cleve Iler's grocery. Work guaranteed. Prompt delivery. Agent Richmond Laundry. 46tf

Mrs. Alva Taylor, Central City, was the guest of her mother, Mrs. M. A. Lewis, a few days last week.

Mr. Z. Wayne Griffin, who has been quite ill of tonsilitis for the past several days, is able to be out again.

Mrs. F. L. Felix and daughter, Mary Elizabeth, are the guests of Mrs. Felix's mother, Mrs. Duncan at Louisville.

The prices of our Suits give no hint of their real value. Over 400 different patterns to select from.

PEARL'S PANTORIUM.

200 fine grade and latest style Hats on display for $1.19, regular price $2.00 and $1.75. See show window. SAM BACH.

The mails have been very irregular for the past several days and the cause is attributed to wash-outs, etc., on the railroads.

Furners who had corn submerged by the recent high water are greatly pleased to learn that it is not so badly damaged as they feared.

Mr. D. Ford is erecting a nice two-story frame dwelling on his farm adjacent to town. It will be ready for occupancy about January 1.

Mr. John P. Taylor, who is attending the Louisville Training School, spent the Thanksgiving holidays here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Taylor.

A short stay. Come look at my samples then look at the price. A Suit tailored strictly to your measure. PEARL'S PANTORIUM. Y. M. C. A. Rooms.

The public school at Rockport began the 19th inst., for the regular fall term. The burning of the school house several months ago caused the delay.

Have your Fire Insurance Policy issued by Barnett & Smith. They represent only the best companies and will write your policy at their office while you wait.

WANTED—To borrow $1,000 at 6 per cent. interest; mortgage on real estate worth twice that amount, also personal security. Call on or address "A." this office. 20tf

Owing to the inclement weather the meeting of Grain Growers was not held November 17, as announced, and December 8 has now been fixed as the date of meeting.

Mr. William Fields, of Central City, and Miss Bertie Robertson, McHenry, were united in marriage at the Court House Wednesday. Judge W. B. Taylor officiating.

Schroeters' Floating Studio is still at Hartford's landing. They are better prepared than ever to turn out up-to-date photographs. Get your work done before winter sets in. 11tf

WANTED:—Gentlemen or lady with good references, to travel by rail or with a rig, for a firm of $250,000.00 capital. Salary $1,072.00 per year and expenses; salary paid weekly and expenses advanced. Address, with stamp, Jos. A. Alexander, Hartford, Ky. 10m6

Mr. Raymond Phillips, of the Sandefur's Crossing neighborhood, and Miss Dena Hudson, of Beda, were quietly united in marriage last Sunday evening at the home of the groom, Rev. A. B. Gardner officiating. These are popular young people and are members of prominent and well known families.

Messrs. John T. Moore, W. S. Tinsley, M. L. Heavrin, and Editor C. M. Barnett, Hartford, and Mr. C. M. Taylor, Beaver Dam, went to Louisville Wednesday to be in attendance at a banquet, ball and theater party given Kosair Temple of Shriners. Messrs. Heavrin and Taylor were also initiated in the Oriental Degree of the Mystic Shrine at Kosair Temple yesterday afternoon.

OUR REPUTATION

For keeping the best, up-to-date line of Dry Goods, Clothing, Ladies' Wraps, Millinery, Shoes, Etc., in Ohio county, has gone out over the whole community. We expect to maintain this at all hazards. Some merchants are crying "big advance," but we are giving to our trade the same values at old-time prices. Join the crowds and come to us, won't you?

Some Specials.

We all need them now. Good cotton Blankets, 50c, 75c, $1.00, $1.50 per pair. All-wool Blankets, 10-4 and 11-4, $4.00, $4.50 and $5.00 per pair.

Our Hosiery.

Big, little, young and old wear them. To say that we carry the best in Hartford, is not exaggerating. Our Mascot Hose for Ladies at 10c 15c and 25c have no equal. Also our Rompers-Playmate and Santa Claus Hose for Boys and Girls at 15c, 20c and 25c, have no equal. To see these is to appreciate their value.

Hosiery

Winter Shirts.

We carry nothing but the most desirable makes—patterns and styles that are sold exclusively by us, running in price, 35c, 50c, $1 and $1.50. Flannel Shirts from $1 to $2. Jersey Shirts, all shades, from 50c to $1. Call and see our line.

—AT—
The Bargain Center

Here is the cheapest good gun yet made. By the omission of the take down feature we have been able to greatly reduce the cost of production and at the same time have kept the gun up to the famous Marlin standard of strength, safety and durability. Notice the clean simplicity of the gun. The barrels, stock and furniture are perfect. The weight is only 7 pounds. The full choke barrel are easily removable as well as black powder and chambered that 2 1/4 inch or 2 1/2 inch shells may be used. Clean and reliable gun. It is the best gun in the country, most reliable and best shooting gun in existence. We are glad to make it possible for every lover of guns and bird shooting to get this high grade repeating shot gun at so low a price.

For sale by U. S. Carson, Hartford.

Every man ought to take a look at Sam Bach's show-windows. Special display at special prices.

Mrs. Lydia Jeffries returned to her home at Greenville, Ky., Monday after visiting her aunt, Mrs. S. T. Barnett, for several days.

While crossing a bridge on the levy north of Hartford Monday, the horse which Dr. S. J. Wedding was riding became entangled in the floor of the bridge and fell, throwing Dr. Wedding into the water. In an effort to regain its lost footing, the horse got into deep water and the current carried it several feet to a slat and wire fence, where it straightened up and swam out. Dr. Wedding escaped without injury and only a reasonably fair wetting.

Notice.

The stockholders of the Hartford Tobacco Warehouse Company are notified to meet at Hartford Monday, December 10, 1906.

WARREN LINDLEY, Pres.

By DAVID MORELAND, Sec'y.

For Sale.

The 842-acre tract of land recently purchased by J. H. Hickman, of

My Hair is Extra Long

Feed your hair; nourish it; give it something to live on. Then it will stop falling, and will grow long and heavy. Ayer's Hair Vigor is the only genuine hair-food you can buy. It gives new life to the hair-bulbs. You save what hair you have, and get more, too. And it keeps the scalp clean and healthy.

The best kind of a testimonial—
"Sold for over sixty years."

Made by J. O. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.
Also manufacturers of
SARSAPARILLA
PILLS
CHERRY PECTORAL.

Ayer's

A GOOD SHEEP DOG.

What He Has to Learn and the Work He Has to Do.

What a herd dog has first to learn is to know every one of 200 or 300 sheep, and to know them both by sight and smell. This he does thoroughly. When Watterson was running sheep on the plains he had a young collie not yet put to the herd, but kept about the pumping plant. As the sheep came in by hundreds to the troughs the dog grew so to know them that when they had picked up stray from another band he discovered it from afar off and, darting as a hornet, nipping and yelping, parted it out from the band. At that time no mere man would have pretended, without the aid of the brand, to recognize any of the thousands that bore it.

How long recollection stays by the dog is not certain, but at least a twelvemonth, as was proved to Filon Girard after he had lost a third of his band when the Santa Anna came roaring up by Lone Pine with a cloud of saffron colored dust on its wings. After the shearing of next year, passing close to another band, Filon's dogs set themselves unbidden to routing out of it and rounding with their own nearly twenty head, which the herder, being on honest man, freely admitted he had picked up on the mesa following after Filon the spring before.

Quick to know the willful and un-biddable members of a flock, the wise collie is not sparing of bites and, following after a stubborn stray, will often throw it and stand guard until help arrives or the sheep shows a better mind. But the herder who has a dog trained at the difficult work of herding range sheep through the chutes and runways into boats and cars for transportation is the fortunate fellow.

There was Pete's dog, Bourdalone, that at the Stockton landing, with no assistance, put 800 wild sheep from the highlands on the boat in eight minutes by running along the backs of the flock until he had picked out the stubborn or stupid leaders that caused the sheep to jam in the runway and by sharp bites set them forward, himself treading the backs of the racing flock like the premiere equestrienne of the circus, which all the men of the shipping cheered to see.—Mary Austin in Harper's Magazine.

RISE OF THE LATCHKEY.

Over in England the possession of a latchkey has lately been held in the courts to have an important bearing on the electoral rights of a man claiming to be a householder. With us the latchkey has grown so universal as to be no indication of a man's status or a woman's either, for that matter. Not so very long ago the American woman's right to the latchkey was subject for jocular argument pro and con, but women's latchkeys are now as common as men's. For an institution that dates back only about seventy years the latchkey has stepped with some suddenness into its place of a universal necessity.—Boston Herald.

D'Annunzio and His Dog.

Gabriele D'Annunzio has erected a monument over the grave of his dog. The inscription on it is a lengthy one, beginning with the words, "Sacred to the imperishable memory of my greatest and most faithful friend." The dog was killed by a peasant some months ago. The novelist prosecuted the man, who at the trial in Florence said that he killed the dog because it worried his hens. The author had engaged the services of two notable counselors at an expense of $1,000 to prosecute. He won, and the peasant was sentenced to ten days' imprisonment.

Rockefeller's Income.

It is impossible to say what is Mr. Rockefeller's income a minute. A congressman has said that if he were to throw away a dollar a second, never stopping a day or night, he could not dispose of his income. It is estimated that since 1898 he has received in Standard Oil dividends near $47,000 every business day. Some one says his wealth in silver dollars would weigh as much as two first class battleships; in one dollar bills it would make a double girdle around the earth and leave a remnant 1,500 miles long.—St. Louis Republic.

Pen Picture of Harriman.

E. H. Harriman, the railroad manager and financial power, is said to be the closest parallel to Napoleon Bonaparte that lives before the public eye today. In stature he is small. He is slight and does not look strong. He generally wears loose fitting clothes and carries his hands in his coat pockets. He is very quick of movement, also of mind, restless, full of energy.

critical of detail, exacting, autocratic. He is, like James J. Hill, moody and not a particularly pleasant neighbor when the mood is that way.

Those Big English Coppers.

How long are we to be afflicted with a cumbersome copper coinage instead of a small nickel one? If Mr. Asquith wishes to merit the approbation of his fellow countrymen during his tenure of office, he will do away with this relic of barbarism, which dates from Lycurgus and from which most other countries have emancipated themselves. The penny and the halfpenny are merely tokens and do not represent intrinsic value.—London Truth.

The Queen Went In.

It is related of the queen mother of Holland, who is one of the sweetest royal ladies of Europe, that recently one morning she was rudely awakened by a loud knocking at her bedroom door. "Who's there?" she asked, and a quaintly dignified voice answered, "The Queen of Holland." Queen Emma replied, "I am not up and am not able to receive her majesty, but if it's only my little girl she can come in." Queen Wilhelmina went in.

The Measure of the Hours of Pain.

Dr. Frederick Treves in an address appealing for contributions to aid the London hospitals said the amount of pain relieved could be roughly gauged by the quantity of morphine consumed at the hospitals. One-sixth of a grain will relieve pain for an hour. In one London hospital alone in 1905, he announced, 87,000 hours of pain, practically ten years, were annulled.

The Rubies of Burma.

But for the control held by a few persons over the ruby deposits of Burma and the disposition to limit the output rubies would be 50 per cent cheaper than they are on the market today. Burma coal oil lands and ruby deposits are held in the tight fist of monopoly, and it looks as if no power would be able to break it.

A Use For the Boys.

The ever burning question, What shall we do with our boys? seems to be satisfactorily answered in the following advertisement, which appears in the window of a Farningdon road butcher's shop: "Wanted, a respectable boy for beef sausages."—London Tribune.

The Left Side of the Face.

"Profile?" said the photographer. "Then turn the left side, please."

The young girl looked impressed. "Did you notice it?" she asked. "You must have sharp eyes. I thought it was a fact known only to myself."

"What fact?" said the photographer.

"Why, the fact that the left side of my face is a little better than the right side, and especially that the left profile is more regular."

"Oh," said the photographer, "of course I noticed that. That, you know, is the case with everybody. Everybody's left profile is better than the right one. The eye is opened more fully, the mouth has a finer curve, the cheek's contour is firmer and the hair about the temples is thicker."

"Notice after this the profile photographs you come across, and you'll find that nine out of ten of them portray the left side of the face."

Pique-nique.

The Oxford English Dictionary determines authoritatively the history of the word "picnic" so far as English is concerned. Toward the close of the eighteenth century the French used the word pique-nique (of obscure derivation) for a social entertainment to which each guest contributed a share. Early in the next century the English appeared to discover that this form of social co-operation was well adapted for excursions and open air repasts, so that about the middle of the century the word was dissociated from suppers and private theatricals, and so long as an entertainment was in the open air it was a picnic, whether its materials were jointly contributed or not.—London Sketch.

Only an Appetizer.

Many years ago dried solan geese, from the Orkneys, used to be imported into Scotland, says the author of "My Strange Pets," and served there as an appetizer, a morsel being eaten at the beginning of a meal.

A worthy farmer gave a dinner to some of his neighbors and in the course of it asked one if he would have "another portion" of the roast.

"I think I will," replied the other. "I ate a bit o' solan goose afore I left home, and it has made me very hungry."

"I dinna believe in the solan geese," broke in another guest. "I et a whole one afore I cam awa, and I dinna feel a bit the hungrier for it."

FOR THE LITTLE ONES.

The Toothsome Banana and How It Is Ripened Artificially.

Nearly all boys and girls like bananas and would be glad to know perhaps something about the way they are handled before and after importation, says the Chicago News. The plant bears fruit every month in the year. The bananas are shipped while green. Otherwise they would rot before they reached this country. The dealers here treat them differently in different seasons. In winter they are hung up in a room heated to 70 degrees by gas. It is said that any other kind of artificial ripening would make the fruit shrivel or ripen too quickly.

In the spring they are allowed to ripen naturally, but in summer they are hung in cellars, because the outside air rots them. They are one of the best and most nutritious fruits we have, but of course we miss the delicate flavor that they have when taken ripe directly from the tree.

Game of Birds, Beasts and Fishes.

Two boys take their slates, and each one writes down the first and last letters of the name of some bird, beast or fish, first stating from which category the name is selected, and puts a cross for each of the intermediate letters. For example, A elects to write down the name of a beast and marks on his slate as follows: Hxxxe. B will perhaps select a fish, and mark on his slate Hxxxxg. They then exchange slates, and each tries to guess the name of the beast or fish indicated and fills up the blanks accordingly. It is evident that those indicated above are respectively horse and herring.

A Riddle.

I am found in jail; I belong to a fire; I am seen in the gutter, abounding in mire. Put my last letter third, and it will be found I belong to a king without changing my sound.

(Answer—Grate, great.)

Nasal Catarrh, an inflammation of the delicate membrane lining the air-passages, is not cured by any mixtures taken to the stomach. Don't waste time on them. Take Ely's Cream Balm through the nostril, so that the feared, swollen tissues are reached at once. Never mind how long you have suffered nor how often you have been disappointed, we know Ely's Cream Balm will cure other by the thousand. All druggists, 50c. Mailed by Ely Bros., 56 Warren St., New York.

A MESS OF THUNDER

Bryan Says Roosevelt Stole His Thunder—Hearst Says Bryan Has His.

Yellow Jacket.

It would take a man suffering with an excess of rectified spirits to discover just what to do about this mess the Democrats and Socialists are in. Bryan accused Roosevelt of stealing his thunder; Hearst accused Bryan of stealing his thunder, and Upton Sinclair, the Socialist, accuses all of stealing his thunder—so where in thunder are we at?

And what a party mess of thunder it is, to be sure. It is the kind of thunder that makes a noise—but promises no hope. It is the kind of thunder that makes people leave their work and prepare for a squall—for a rain-storm—but brings no good. Bryan wants Individualism and Hearst wants Americanism and Sinclair wants Socialism. You see there is a whole lot of "ism" to all of it.

The truth is all this dreaming, scheming stuff about railroads, being owned by the Government; all this trap about men who have saved a few dollars being a menace to our republic; all this ranting about people not having to work over an hour a day—call it Individualism, call it Americanism, or call it Socialism—disturbs, and unsettles the conditions in America.

Go anywhere and look at the home of to-day, and you see more evidence of prosperity than you ever saw before and more than our fathers ever dreamed was possible. The Republican party—standing on a platform that has been tried and tested in every detail has made all this possible.

Why should men seek strange gods and above all why should they think of going into business with a party like Democracy? It is all bosh—these dreams that reformers are giving us—and Sinclair uses his as a graft to enrich himself; Bryan has made his fortune of his lungs, and Hearst, with his yellow papers, preaching anarchy and calling it Americanism, seeks to increase his power. It is individualism with these three graces—but the individualism that people should let alone.

THE MOON.

Some Facts About Our Nearest Neighbor Which Everyone Does Not Know.

One of the most beautiful, interesting and conspicuous objects in the world is the moon, and yet nine-tenths of the people do not know the distance to it, its size, motions, or its physical nature, they will pay a dollar to see the "blue moon" or some other such nonsense; but to see the real moon, that has the glory of God about it, they would scarcely turn their heads.

Beyond it, these fair November nights, it is full beauty, high in the skies. It seems almost to speak to one, so mild and gentle it is, and so very near and yet it is 240,000 miles away, but the nearest of all heavily bodies except now and then the big meteor that comes sailing thru our air. It seems to be traveling west, yet is going east at the rate of more than half a mile a second. And it is going with the earth around the sun four times faster than that.

Up there in the skies, it seems only a foot or two in diameter, but it is 2,160 miles. It would take nearly five areas the size of the United States to cover its surface. It is as dry as tinder, which it probably is—no air, no water and it is colder than ice all the time; and on the side turned from the sun it is 300 degrees below zero.

Gravity at the noon is one sixth less than it is at the surface of the earth. Therefore, if a man weighing 150 pounds on the earth would go the moon he would weigh but 125 pounds there, and if he would keep up his strength, he could jump 40 feet on the moon where he could jump only six feet on the earth.

Greatly reduced round trip Home-seekers' rates to the WEST AND SOUTH-WEST First and Third Tuesdays in each month. Liberal limits and stop-over privileges.

For rates, map, folders, etc., see nearest Ticket agent, or address

R. T. G. MATTHEWS, T. P. A.,

201 Norton Bldg.,

Louisville, Ky.

KILL THE COUGH AND CURE THE LUNGS
WITH DR. KING'S
New Discovery
FOR CONSUMPTION COUGHS and GOALS
Price 50c & $1.00
Free Trial.
Surest and Quickest Cure for all THROAT and LUNG TROUBLES, or MONEY BACK.

PROFESSIONAL.

C. M. BARNETT.

C. E. SMITH

BARNETT & SMITH,

ATTORNEYS AT LAW.

HARTFORD, KY.

Will practice their profession in all the courts and adjoining counties and Court of Appeals. Special attention given to all business entrusted to them. Collections and the Practice of Criminal and Real Estate Law specialties. Office in Republic Building.

FRANK L. FELIX,
Attorney at Law,
HARTFORD, KY.

Will practice his profession in Ohio and adjoining county and in the Court of Appeals. Criminal practice and Collections a specialty. Office in the Herald building.

CHAS. M. CROWE,
LAWYER,
HARTFORD, KY.

WILL practice his profession in all the courts of Ohio and adjoining counties and in the Court of Appeals. Special attention given to collections, making attorney, etc., also Notary Public for Ohio county. Office on north side public square.

JNO. B. WILSON,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,
HARTFORD, KY.

Will practice his profession in all the courts of Ohio and adjoining counties, and in the Court of Appeals. Also Notary Public. Office over Ohio County Bank.

M. L. HEAVRIN, ERNEST WOODWARD

HEAVRIN & WOODWARD,

Attorneys at Law,

HARTFORD, KY.

Will practice their profession in all the Courts of Ohio and Court of Appeals. Special attention given to criminal practice and collections. Office next door to Bank of Hartford.

YANCY L. MOSLEY,
ATTORNEY AT LAW,

Hartford, Kentucky, Will practice his profession in all the Courts of Ohio and adjoining counties, and in the Court of Appeals. Also Notary Public. Office over First National Bank.

W. H. BARNES, S. A. ANDERSON

BARNES & ANDERSON,

Attorneys and Counselors at Law,

HARTFORD, KY.

The undersigned announce that they have formed a partnership for the practice of law in all courts, State and Federal, with offices south side of Main Street, opposite Court House, Hartford, Ky. Abstracting Titles and litigation affecting Titles to Real Estate will be given special attention. Notary in office.

W. H. BARNES,

S. A. ANDERSON.

GRADUATE NURSE.

MISS SUSIE MAY,

A graduate of Owensboro City Hospital, has located in

HARTFORD

And will answer calls at all times. Residence East Union street. Home phone No. 137.

REVIVO RESTORES VITALITY

"Made a Well Man of Me."

THE GREAT REVIVO REMEDY

produces fine results in 30 days. It acts powerfully and quickly. Cures when others fail.

Young men regain their lost manhood and old men their youthful vigor by using REVIVO. It quickly cures rheumatism, nervousness, lost vitality, sexual weakness such as loss of power, failing memory, wasting, etc., and effects of self-abuse or excess, and induces a strong desire for study, business or marriage. It is only a great nerve tonic and blood builder, bringing back the vital glow to pale cheeks and restoring the fire of youth to wrinkled skin.

In insist on having REVIVO, no other. It can be carried in vest pocket. By mail, $1.00 per package, or six for $5.00. We give full guarantee. Circulars free. Address

ROYAL MEDICINE CO., Marine Bldg., Chicago, Ill.

For Sale by J. H. Williams, Hartford, Ky.

ROGUE RIVER TELEPHONE COMPANY

Getting a Fit.

If we were all Appolos and had just the perfect proportions for our chest measure, the Clothes business would be a cinch, but nature mixed us up a bit. Run no risk buying from stock. At

PEARL'S PANTORIUM

You will find over 400 different patterns to select from. Each suit and Overcoat is made strictly to the individual's measure. A PERFECT FIT GUARANTEED. The Clothes made by are second to none in style and workmanship. Give us an order for your Christmas Suit and Overcoat.

STRAUSS BROS., Chicago, MASTER TAILORS.

P. D. TWEDDELL.

BANK OF HARTFORD

INCORPORATED 1882.

Capital Stock	$40,000.00
Surplus	12,000.00
Stockholders Add'l. Liability	40,000.00
Security to Depositors	$92,000.00

J. W. FORD, President. JOHN T. MOORE, Cashier.
H. P. TAYLOR, V. Pres't. R. HOLBROOK, Ass't. Cashier.

J. W. FORD, R. HOLBROOK, JNO. T. MOORE, Directors.
H. P. TAYLOR, JNO. C. THOMAS.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK, at Hartford.

Capital Stock, $25,000
Surplus & Profits, 12,500

Will loan money from 1 day to 12 months. This is your Bank. Come in.

DIRECTORS.

GABE LIKENS, ALVIN ROWE,
BURCH FELIX, JIM POLK
STEVENS, WAYNE GRIFFIN.

Have You A Cold Room?

In most houses there is a room without proper heating facilities—to say nothing of chilly hallways. Even though the heat of your stoves or furnace should be inadequate to warm the whole house there need not be one cold spot if you have a

PERFECTION Oil Heater

(Equipped with Smokeless Device)

It will heat a room in no time and will keep it warm and cozy. Operated as easily as a lamp and perfectly safe. Wick cannot be turned too high or too low. Gives no smoke or smell because fitted with unique smokeless device. Can be carried about, which cannot be done with an ordinary stove. The Perfection Oil Heater is superior to all other oil heaters and is an ornament to any home. Made in two finishes—nickel and japan. Brass oil fountain beautifully embossed. Holds four quarts of oil and burns nine hours. Every heater warranted. If not at your dealer's write nearest agency for descriptive circular.

THE Rayo Lamp is the safest and best all-round household lamp. Made of brass throughout and nickel-plated. Equipped with latest improved burner. Every lamp warranted. An ornament to any room whether library, dining-room, parlor or bedroom. Write to nearest agency if not at your dealer's.

STANDARD OIL COMPANY, Incorporated.

THE 360 DAY YEAR.

Why It Had to Give Place to the System Now In Use.

There is a story in Plutarch which must convince every reader that one myth at least relates to an alteration made in the Egyptian calendar to extend the length of the year from 360 days to 365. A year of 360 days existed in Egypt at an early period. The lunar month, from new moon to new moon, being twenty-nine and one-half days in length, the convenient round number of thirty days was taken as a standard, and twelve months, of thirty days each, made up the year. The solar year is more difficult to observe than the lunar month, the intervals being longer, and a year of 360 days was a very convenient and reasonable approximation to it. At any rate, the year of 360 days came into use, and a curious custom at Acanthae, near Memphis, seems to allude to it. A perforated vessel was filled with water by 360 priests on each day of the year. In the island of Philae, again, 360 pitchers were placed around the tomb of Osiris, for making funeral libations, and were filled every day by the priests with milk. With 360 days in the year the ecliptic circle of the heavens, as represented in the charts, would be divided into 360 equal parts, and we must regard it as a relic of this time that the circle is still made to consist of 360 degrees. But so erroneous an estimate of the length of the year would soon be corrected by experience.

It is evident that in about seventy-two years a cycle would be accomplished in which the New Year's day would sweep through all the months, remaining only six years in each. The same month, so far as its name was concerned, would now be in the inundation time, now in the season of sowing and anion in the time of reaping, and the agriculturist must have been perplexed. A text in the papyrus Anastasi makes reference to such perplexity and may receive its explanation here. Goodwin translated it: "May Amen deliver me from the cold season, when the sun does not shine, the winter comes instead of the summer, the month is stormy, the hours shortened." Similar confusion would overtake the religious festivals, the New Year, for example, coming five days before its proper time, and then ten days before, and so on, and it might be thought that its observance at the wrong season would displease the gods. The year of 360 days had to give way and ultimately did so in favor of one of 365 days. The precise date of the change is not known, but it is referred to in inscriptions of the time of Amenemhat I. (circa 2400 B. C.) and may of course have been introduced much earlier. When this was done the original months were not altered, but a "little month" of five days was interpolated at the end of the year between the month Mesori of one year and the Thoth of the next. —Westminster Gazette.

Two of a Kind.

The Rev. Mr. Roberson was called upon to attend to two workers who had received fatal injuries in a riot. The reverend gentleman was most anxious that the men should confess who had been their accomplices. One of them died without uttering a word on the subject. As the other lay at the point of death he beckoned Mr. Roberson, who hastened to his side in the full expectation that he was about to learn the fateful tidings. This belief was strengthened by the first words of the sufferer. "Can you keep a secret?" he gasped.

"I can," was the eager response of the clergyman.

"So can I," said the dying man, and immediately afterward he calmly passed away.—Westminster Review.

Two Swallows.

"Hello, Mick! Have you heard about that awful affair?"

"What awful affair?"

"About the man swallowing the girl."

"Swallowing a girl? Go 'long! Couldn't be done."

"Yes, fact. Swallowed a little milk made hot."

"Well, that's good! But, look here, old pal, what about the railway man that swallowed his mate, eh?"

"Give it up."

"Well, he swallowed a little Dublin porter cold!"—London Mail.

The Correct Count.

As a prisoner was brought before Judge Sherman for sentence the clerk happened to be absent. Judge Sherman asked the officer in charge of the prisoner what the offense was with which he was charged. "Bigotry, your honor. He's been married to three women." "Why, officer, that's not bigotry," said the judge; "that's trigonometry."—Indianapolis Star.

THE POCKET TELEPHONE.

A pocket telephone for police purposes is probably the most novel adaptation of invention in this particular field. It is to be seen in daily practical working in Vienna, and perhaps in Vienna alone of the great cities of the world. In the Austrian capital, however, the system is universal, and every police officer on duty is provided with the necessary appliances. In every street of importance in the city special call boxes have been placed, and every officer on duty having occasion to communicate with his station has only to pull out his pocket apparatus, adjust it to the wire in the box, and communication at once is established. As a method of summoning aid in all but petty cases the system seems to have many advantages over the whistle.

The Horometer.

This is an instrument of my invention by which the distance of an object at sea can be measured by measuring the angle of depression of its water line below a horizontal line drawn from the eye of the observer. The instrument is "set" at the height of the observer, and the measurement is made by turning a micrometer wheel, graduated in yards, until the image of the water line of the object is raised through the angle of depression, and then reading the graduation on the micrometer wheel.—Commander Bradley A. Fiske in Proceedings of United States Naval Institute.

A New Way of Phoning.

Have you tried the new way of phoning, invented by some germ dreading individual? People who have a scientific turn of mind give all sorts of interesting reasons for it, but it does seem somewhat startling to press the receiver against your chest and to talk into space, exactly as though the person you were phoning to were in the room. Yet, curiously enough, your voice carries perfectly over the wire, more clearly, in fact, for there's neither the mumbling nor the shrieking which "comes out" in metallic "jerks" at the other end. Try it, Washington Star.

A Woman's Big Fight.

Mrs. Cleary, an Irishwoman, is fighting alone the government of Victoria, Australia, for the possession of her home, which she erected in a hollow a few years ago. The government wanted this hollow for the purposes of a reservoir. Mrs. Cleary would not budge. The authorities, equally determined, built the reservoir around her premises, and the water has been turned on. It flooded the lady's lower rooms, and she lodged herself in the upper ones. She declares she prefers to drown rather than surrender. The next move is with the government.

A Fire Veil.

One of the gravest perils which fire fighters are constantly facing is the fierce heat. After successful trials a newly invented "heat veil" has been introduced into practice at Cologne, Germany, where 200 men have been supplied with the appliance. The veil is made after the principle of a safety lamp, with double windows. It is composed of fibers of cane, which possesses the peculiar property of retaining water for a considerable length of time. The veil is made damp before being fastened to the fireman's ordinary brass helmet.

Pettus Would Farmer Be.

United States Senator Pettus of Alabama, who is eighty-six years of age, when asked what vocation he would choose if he were again beginning active life replied: "The high calling of a farmer. I would purchase a nicely located farm and settle down to farming as my life work, thus guaranteeing to my loved ones and to myself the highest and happiest of hours, with a full crib, a full smokehouse and a full measure of usefulness."

Uncle Sam's Soldiers.

According to George B. Winter, the London military tailor, who was engaged by the United States government to reorganize the uniforms of the American army, that army contains the pick of American manhood. The soldiers are as hard as nails, lean and muscular. They are indeed a magnificent lot of athletes and are capable of standing any amount of hardship."—London Mail.

Cannon Ball Bank Vaults.

The walls of the newest bank vaults in London are being constructed of the oddest materials imaginable—namely, old fashioned globular cannon balls bedded in cement. The idea is that the tools of burglars will slip upon the rounded iron surfaces, making it impossible for them to pick through the walls.

are caused by Indigestion. If you eat a little too much, or if you are subject to attacks of Indigestion, you have no doubt had shortness of breath, rapid heart beats, heartburn or palpitation of the heart.

Indigestion causes the stomach to expand—swell, and puff up against the heart. This crowds the heart and interferes with its action, and in the course of time the heart becomes diseased.

The Horometer.

This is an instrument of my invention by which the distance of an object at sea can be measured by measuring the angle of depression of its water line below a horizontal line drawn from the eye of the observer. The instrument is "set" at the height of the observer, and the measurement is made by turning a micrometer wheel, graduated in yards, until the image of the water line of the object is raised through the angle of depression, and then reading the graduation on the micrometer wheel.—Commander Bradley A. Fiske in Proceedings of United States Naval Institute.

The Horometer.

This is an instrument of my invention by which the distance of an object at sea can be measured by measuring the angle of depression of its water line below a horizontal line drawn from the eye of the observer. The instrument is "set" at the height of the observer, and the measurement is made by turning a micrometer wheel, graduated in yards, until the image of the water line of the object is raised through the angle of depression, and then reading the graduation on the micrometer wheel.—Commander Bradley A. Fiske in Proceedings of United States Naval Institute.

The Horometer.

This is an instrument of my invention by which the distance of an object at sea can be measured by measuring the angle of depression of its water line below a horizontal line drawn from the eye of the observer. The instrument is "set" at the height of the observer, and the measurement is made by turning a micrometer wheel, graduated in yards, until the image of the water line of the object is raised through the angle of depression, and then reading the graduation on the micrometer wheel.—Commander Bradley A. Fiske in Proceedings of United States Naval Institute.

The Horometer.

This is an instrument of my invention by which the distance of an object at sea can be measured by measuring the angle of depression of its water line below a horizontal line drawn from the eye of the observer. The instrument is "set" at the height of the observer, and the measurement is made by turning a micrometer wheel, graduated in yards, until the image of the water line of the object is raised through the angle of depression, and then reading the graduation on the micrometer wheel.—Commander Bradley A. Fiske in Proceedings of United States Naval Institute.

The Horometer.

This is an instrument of my invention by which the distance of an object at sea can be measured by measuring the angle of depression of its water line below a horizontal line drawn from the eye of the observer. The instrument is "set" at the height of the observer, and the measurement is made by turning a micrometer wheel, graduated in yards, until the image of the water line of the object is raised through the angle of depression, and then reading the graduation on the micrometer wheel.—Commander Bradley A. Fiske in Proceedings of United States Naval Institute.

The Horometer.

This is an instrument of my invention by which the distance of an object at sea can be measured by measuring the angle of depression of its water line below a horizontal line drawn from the eye of the observer. The instrument is "set" at the height of the observer, and the measurement is made by turning a micrometer wheel, graduated in yards, until the image of the water line of the object is raised through the angle of depression, and then reading the graduation on the micrometer wheel.—Commander Bradley A. Fiske in Proceedings of United States Naval Institute.

The Horometer.

This is an instrument of my invention by which the distance of an object at sea can be measured by measuring the angle of depression of its water line below a horizontal line drawn from the eye of the observer. The instrument is "set" at the height of the observer, and the measurement is made by turning a micrometer wheel, graduated in yards, until the image of the water line of the object is raised through the angle of depression, and then reading the graduation on the micrometer wheel.—Commander Bradley A. Fiske in Proceedings of United States Naval Institute.

The Horometer.

This is an instrument of my invention by which the distance of an object at sea can be measured by measuring the angle of depression of its water line below a horizontal line drawn from the eye of the observer. The instrument is "set" at the height of the observer, and the measurement is made by turning a micrometer wheel, graduated in yards, until the image of the water line of the object is raised through the angle of depression, and then reading the graduation on the micrometer wheel.—Commander Bradley A. Fiske in Proceedings of United States Naval Institute.

The Horometer.

This is an instrument of my invention by which the distance of an object at sea can be measured by measuring the angle of depression of its water line below a horizontal line drawn from the eye of the observer. The instrument is "set" at the height of the observer, and the measurement is made by turning a micrometer wheel, graduated in yards, until the image of the water line of the object is raised through the angle of depression, and then reading the graduation on the micrometer wheel.—Commander Bradley A. Fiske in Proceedings of United States Naval Institute.

The Horometer.

This is an instrument of my invention by which the distance of an object at sea can be measured by measuring the angle of depression of its water line below a horizontal line drawn from the eye of the observer. The instrument is "set" at the height of the observer, and the measurement is made by turning a micrometer wheel, graduated in yards, until the image of the water line of the object is raised through the angle of depression, and then reading the graduation on the micrometer wheel.—Commander Bradley A. Fiske in Proceedings of United States Naval Institute.

The Horometer.

This is an instrument of my invention by which the distance of an object at sea can be measured by measuring the angle of depression of its water line below a horizontal line drawn from the eye of the observer. The instrument is "set" at the height of the observer, and the measurement is made by turning a micrometer wheel, graduated in yards, until the image of the water line of the object is raised through the angle of depression, and then reading the graduation on the micrometer wheel.—Commander Bradley A. Fiske in Proceedings of United States Naval Institute.

The Horometer.

This is an instrument of my invention by which the distance of an object at sea can be measured by measuring the angle of depression of its water line below a horizontal line drawn from the eye of the observer. The instrument is "set" at the height of the observer, and the measurement is made by turning a micrometer wheel, graduated in yards, until the image of the water line of the object is raised through the angle of depression, and then reading the graduation on the micrometer wheel.—Commander Bradley A. Fiske in Proceedings of United States Naval Institute.

The Horometer.

This is an instrument of my invention by which the distance of an object at sea can be measured by measuring the angle of depression of its water line below a horizontal line drawn from the eye of the observer. The instrument is "set" at the height of the observer, and the measurement is made by turning a micrometer wheel, graduated in yards, until the image of the water line of the object is raised through the angle of depression, and then reading the graduation on the micrometer wheel.—Commander Bradley A. Fiske in Proceedings of United States Naval Institute.

The Horometer.

This is an instrument of my invention by which the distance of an object at sea can be measured by measuring the angle of depression of its water line below a horizontal line drawn from the eye of the observer. The instrument is "set" at the height of the observer, and the measurement is made by turning a micrometer wheel, graduated in yards, until the image of the water line of the object is raised through the angle of depression, and then reading the graduation on the micrometer wheel.—Commander Bradley A. Fiske in Proceedings of United States Naval Institute.

The Hor

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 30.

THE CROCODILE.

No Other Animal Can Look So Dead and Be So Much Alive.

There is little in the animal kingdom that can look so dead and be so much alive as a crocodile. The number of unsuspecting persons who have mistaken him for a log and have failed to discover their mistake until it was too late to be of any benefit to them will never be known.

In ancient times, several years prior to the British occupation of Egypt, some of the people of that country worshiped the crocodile as a god, there being nothing else like him. They fed him on dainties and togged him out with jewelry. In other parts of Egypt, however, the natives looked upon him as devil. Having no firearms, they did not kill him with lead, but they managed to immolate him successfully with such weapons as were fashionable at the time.

The crocodile is not so numerous in the Nile as he was in the days of the Rameses family. In fact, he rather shuns the river now below the second cataract on account of the annoyances inseparable from tourist traffic. It seems impossible for a tourist to see a crocodile without trying to plug him with a revolver, and to a reptile that is fond of a quiet life this sort of thing is simply insufferable. He will not molest a man unless he can take him at a disadvantage, and so long as man does not unthinkingly step on him the crocodile will go his own way and calmly await his opportunity.

He feeds on fish, but for a course dinner he would rather have humanity, black preferred, which shows that there is no accounting for taste even among reptiles. His methods of capturing large game are plural as well as singular. Sometimes he will lie on a river bank partly covered with sand or mud until an absentminded native wanders within reach. Having grabbed his prey, he will waddle into the water and there drown the strugger. He will then drag his victim ashore and bury him in sand or mud and wait for days before he gorges himself.—Pall Mall Gazette.

She Was Excited.

"It's funny the way some women act when they get excited," said a conductor on the Broadway line. He continued: "A well dressed, refined appearing woman ran out of a store and jumped on my car just as I was about to pull the bell for the motorman to go ahead. She stood up in the aisle and said: 'Wait a minute; don't go yet! My husband will be here soon.' Her husband wasn't in sight, so I decided we'd have to go. When I reached for the bell cord she grew excited. 'I told you to wait,' she said. 'My husband will be here in just a minute.' 'We cannot wait for him, madam,' I said. 'We're running on schedule time.' It was then that she did something funny. She grew more excited and said to me, 'Young man, if you do hold this car for my husband I'll smash you in the face.' Just then her husband came out of a store on the sun and climbed aboard. When he had dropped into a seat the woman looked at me and with a sweet smile said, 'Now you may go ahead, conductor.' 'Thank you,' I said."—Denver Post.

She Missed Him.

A poor woman who kept a small shop in a northern village and who was troubled with a husband who could scarcely be considered a credit to the family one day found herself a widow through the sudden demise of her spouse. A lady who frequently made small purchases at the shop called to see her and to offer her sympathy, though well knowing that the man's death must in a certain sense come as a relief, as the wife had often suffered from his violence. She was not, however, quite prepared for the stoical way in which the wife took her bereavement.

Said the lady:

"I am sure, Mrs. G., you must miss your husband."

"Well, mum, it do seem queer to go into the shop and find something in the till."—London Tit-Bits.

A Dilemma.

Young Bellarine had at the same time a sore throat and pains in his stomach. So he went to the doctor, who said that he must take something sweet for his throat, but he protested, saying that it would be bad for his stomach. "And," said the doctor, refusing to listen, "for your stomach you must take something strong."

"But," protested once more the victim, "that will be bad for my throat."

"Dear me!" exclaimed the doctor, out of patience. "You are a little too much. Decide instantly whether you prefer a sore throat or stomach trouble."—U. Riso.

Words That Wear.

Did you ever count the number of words which have ears? Now this question may seem absurd, but nevertheless there are many words which possess each an ear. Not a pair of ears, mind you, but one ear. A few of the words that are so blessed are given here. After reading them over try to find as many more as you can: Tear, smear, dear, fear, hear, near, rear, pear, drear and bear.

You will notice that the ear always comes at the end of the word.

To Mark Knives.

This is the way boys can write their names on knife blades:

Take the knife and warm the blade. Then rub on a coating of white beeswax. Let it cool, and when hard mark through the wax with a sharp pointed tool of steel. Then apply nitric acid and let it stand for a minute. Then wash off the acid and again warm the blade and rub off the wax with a rag.

Snow at a Cent a Pound.

Snow is sold in the north of Sicily, where it fetches about a cent a pound. It is a government monopoly, and the Prince of Palermo derives the greater part of his income from it. The snow, which is gathered on the mountains in felt covered baskets, is widely bought in the cities for refrigerating purposes.

Dear Rec.

All stand in a line on the farther side of the yard or room and at a signal run across and touch the wall or building. The winner drops out and the others race again. The winners of five races run together to decide which shall be leader of the deer herd.

Candle and Water Trick.

Get a good sized cork or bung. Upon it place a small lighted candle. Then set it afloat in a pail of water. Next, lower an inverted drinking glass down over the light and push it carefully down into the water. You will see the candle burn under water. If you take a large pickle bottle, cut off the bottom and use it in place of the drinking glass, the candle will burn much longer under water.

The Bearded Lady (horrified)—Engaged to the ossified man! My dear child, why in the world did you take such a step?

The Circassian Girl—He said it would break him all up if I refused him, and you know I couldn't bear to see the poor fellow go to pieces. —Puck.

Wanted Particulars.

"Have pity on me, darling," pleaded the poor but otherwise honest young man. "I cannot live without you."

"What's the matter?" queried the homely heiress. "Have you lost your job?"—Detroit Tribune.

Hateful.

Patience—My feet look awfully large in this photograph, don't they?

Patrice—Yes, but just think how terribly big they'd look if the photograph was life size!—Yonkers Statesman.

Enjoyment.

"What do you most enjoy about automobiling?"

"The sense of relief," answered Mr. Cumrox, "when I get to the end of a trip and find that nobody has been hurt."—Washington Star.

Couldn't Fool Her.

Miss DePlayne (proudly)—A dozen men offered me their hands at the sea shore this summer.

Miss Wisely—Indeed! How long have you been student of palmistry?—Chicago News.

A Limit.

Chequely—Money, young man, can do anything.

Fredrik—Excuse me, sir, it can't get a fellow into our college eleven.—Town and Country.

THE LEADER.

For the last five years this store has been known as the leader in Men's Clothing and Furnishings of Hartford. It does not only mean that we carry the largest stock of Clothing, but also keep the best quality and latest styles and sells at the most reasonable prices.

When you buy a Suit or Overcoat here, you get a garment that has good material and is made up right. The Clothing is manufactured by the best and most reliable concerns in the United States, and you stand no chance of not getting your money's worth. Our Suits are strictly guaranteed to hold color, shape, sewing and to wear good. They range from $10 to $20, hand-sewed buttonholes, full padded shoulders, hair lined front which prevents coat from losing shape, and the best of linings are put into these garments. Suits from $5 to $10 for people of moderate means and who do not wish to pay more for a Suit. We have an elegant and nobby selection of Suits and Overcoats at $5 to 10. They will give you good satisfaction and your money's worth.

Mufflers.

We have just received a beautiful assortment of Way's Mufflers in fancy stripes, black, white, brown and other solid colors. This is what every person of both sex, young or old, ought to wear; it keeps you from catching cold, looks dressy and serves in place of a Sweater. Price 25c and 50c.

A SWELL SITE made in all leathers and silks.

Woolen Top Shirts and Sweaters.

Do you need a Woolen Top Shirt or a Woolen Sweater? If you do, come in and let us show you our assortment. We have received a new supply of these goods lately, and can satisfy your desires in color, quality, price and size. Price $1 to $2.50.

We Don't Forget Your Feet.

We are great friends with the human foot. Why? Because we carry a large stock of Shoes that are made for comfort, that is what the foot likes the best. Style, that is what you like the best, and good wear and low price, that is what the pocket-book likes the best. So these three reasons ought to satisfy you. We make good what we say. Give us a trial.

How About a Hat.

Don't forget that we sell the Swan Brand Hats, the best Hat made for popular prices. We have the latest shapes, Derby, Alpine, Telescopes, Broad Brims, Narrow Brims and in fact any shape Hat you are looking for—$1.50 to $3.50. We have the J. B. Stetson in different shapes at $3.50 to $5.00.

Underwear.

When you think of Underwear, think of US, for WE have a large supply in this line in Woolen and Cotton. Wright's Health Natural Wool, Sanitary Fleece Heavy Ribbed in different colors. We also have them for women and children. 50c to $3.50 per Suit.

SAM BACH, - Hartford, Ky.

A ROYAL FAD FOR JEWELS.

Louis XIV. and the Famous Crown of Agrippina.

Louis XIV. had an unconquerable passion for jewels, and his most valued possession was the famous crown of Agrippina, which was composed of eight tiers of immense brilliants in a transparent setting.

He kept the most precious of the crown jewels in his private cabinet in order that he might admire and examine them at his ease, an occupation in which he took much delight. Nor did he ever hear of a gem of great value either in Asia, Europe or any other country without making strenuous efforts to secure the prize.

At an entertainment given by Louis to the Princess of Modena it happened that the conversation turned on the fashions and designs of jewelry, which prompted the Marquis de Dangean, who prided himself on his antiquarian knowledge, to observe that it was in the time of Nero that the imperial crown was first arched, whereupon Louis remarked that he possessed one himself and that the Marchioness de Montespan would produce it for him.

When the sparkling circlet was brought forth it excited universal admiration, but when the king obtained a close look at it he exclaimed to the marchioness: "How is this, madame? This is no longer my crown of Agrippina! All the stones have been changed!"

The setting was intact, but the brilliants had been replaced by paste. When the mystery was solved it was proved that the maker

THE SINGER

OR
Wheeler & Wilson

If in need of a Singer or Wheeler & Wilson Sewing Machine I will bring one to your house and show you the work and make prices to suit the times on easy payments. Also have repairs for all makes of machines. Office at my residence on Center street. Your patronage solicited.

J. C. BENNETT,
Hartford, Ky.

SPECIAL PRICE ON
THE REPUBLICAN

And Owensboro Daily Inquirer if paid at this office before Christmas. Both papers one year for only $3.10.

PICTURE SHOES

THAT'S what many of our new "Queen Quality" styles might fitly be called. The makers of "Queen Quality" Shoes have long enjoyed world-wide renown for the beauty and originality of their shoe styles. But this season's models with their new toe shapes, new heels and new patterns, set a still higher mark. We only ask the opportunity of showing the new styles and demonstrating their superior style and fitting qualities. Prices are $4.00, $3.50 and $3.00.

E. P. BARNES & BROS.

Moss and Tompson.
Plasterers and contractors, satisfaction guaranteed. Phone 29 or Beaver Dam Planing Mill. 131f

Subscribe for THE HARTFORD REPUBLICAN.